THIRTY-SEVENTH YEAR

N. W. BASINGER

Introducing Democratic Candidate for Treasurer Of Allen-co

N. W. Basinger, Democratic candidate for treasurer of Allen-co, presents a long record of experience in handling public funds as one of his principal claims to the position for which he is running.

In addition, his life time residence in this county and his thorough knowledge of conditions here are placed among the foremost reasons for his election November 7.

Basinger was born in Richland-twp. Aug. 11, 1868. His father, David P. Basinger, now 81 years of age, still lives in Richland-twp.

Basinger spent his early years working on a farm. He attended Richland-twp schools and later entered the Bluffton High school. In 1888 he was graduated from that school with honors.

He immediately entered the teaching profession. For four years he taught in Richland-twp and Richland-twp schools and later entered the Bluffton High school. In 1893 he was graduated from that school with honors.

He immediately entered the teaching profession. For four years he taught in Richland-twp and Richland-twp schools and later entered the Bluffton High school. In 1893 he was graduated from that school with honors.

During this time, Basinger was called to public service. His first public duty was that of township treasurer for Richland-twp. For four years he handled the township funds with commendable ability. The fact that he was chosen for a second term indicates the confidence his constituency had in him.

Basinger's next public duty was in the capacity of councilman for Bluffton. Again he served for two terms.

While he served as councilman in Bluffton, he was called by Lehr E. Miller, then treasurer of Allen-co, to assist him in administering the affairs of his office. Basinger served as first deputy to the county treasurer for four successive years. His position enabled him to get a thorough understanding of the business, methods and policies of the office.

His work put him in line to step forth as a candidate for the township in 1921 with a just claim upon the office. He was defeated however in the general election.

He then retired from public life for the interval, ever remaining, however, a factor in Democratic circles and a loyal adherent to his party's principles.

Basinger is a family man. He has a wife and six children. His home at present is in Bluffton.

FRANK SMITH

Introducing Democratic candidate for coronor of Allen-co.

Democrats of Allen-co are presenting to voters at the election Tuesday a prominent Lima physician and surgeon as their candidate for coronor of the county—Dr. Frank Smith, Citizens-bldg.

Smith was born in Rushsylvania, Ohio 1874 and spent his boyhood on a farm in Delaware-co. He attended the public schools of Marysville and Delaware and later attended Ohio Wesleyan University. He then entered Starling Ohio Medical College, now a part of Ohio State University, from which he was graduated in 1897. He later took a postgraduate course at University of Chicago.

Following completion of his school work he was surgeon associate for two years at Holzer hospital and the Ohio hospital for epileptics at Gallipolis, Ohio. For six years he was surgeon at Pearl-st. hospital and associate surgeon at Dillman hospital at Willard, Ohio.

He was United States pension examiner of Huron-co, for six years. He now is local surgeon for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and various industrial plants. He is doing a general practice in Lima and is well known throughout the county. He resides at 429 Nye-st.

Smith was a member of the Medical Reserve Corps of the United States during the World War. Smith has been a life-long Democrat and is a member of the Elks, Eagles and J. O. U. A. M. This is his first race for office but he has been instrumental in campaigns of others throughout his residence here. He is capable and deserving of support of voters of the county.

GHOST CAUSES MARITAL TANGLE

Mrs. Bertha Lahm

Spouse Lured Away by Dead Girl's Spirit

Chicago Wife Charges Love Stolen by One Returning From Grave

CHICAGO — (Special) — Forming the third corner of an "eternal triangle" here is the ghost of a former sweetheart.

The spectral figure, claims the wife in the case, has come back to earth and is luring her husband's love away.

The couple had separated, and on the strength of her story of spiritual lure, Mrs. Bertha Lahm is petitioning the courts for separate maintenance from Fred Lahm, alleged host to the spirit flame.

Under oath Mrs. Lahm declares their married life has never been happy since the return from the great beyond of a girl named Evelyn, whom the husband admits he loved before her death eight years ago.

Lahm's belief in the spirit world came to him a few years ago, says Mrs. Lahm. Ever since, he has been covering the house with pictures of Evelyn, she says.

Conditions in the Lahm household became more and more serious until recently, the wife says, her husband held daily seances with his ghostly visitor. He sought advice from the spirit, Mrs. Lahm charges, even neglected her and their child, also named Evelyn, to be with the spirit of his former love.

"I simply couldn't stand it any longer," said Mrs. Lahm, who has taken her daughter to her mother's home to live.

Nothing could be done in the household, she said, unless Lahm first consulted the spirit. It got so, she alleges, Lahm went to other women whose name was Evelyn, on the pretext that the spirit had guided him to them.

All these circumstances led Mrs. Lahm to seek recourse in the courts. "I am sure," she says, "that as far as he will go, however, in explaining the alleged presence of the spirit of his former sweetheart."

Lahm denies her charges. "None of it is true," he says. "That is as far as he will go, however, in explaining the alleged presence of the spirit of his former sweetheart."

PHILLIPS TO BARE LOVE AFFAIR

His Plan to Free Wife of Murder Charge

MAY TAKE STAND TODAY

Attempt Made to Fasten Crime on Peggy Caffee

(BY LANSING WARREN) LOS ANGELES. (United Press) — Mrs. Clara Phillips who claims Peggy Caffee, the state's star witness struck the blow with a hammer that felled Mrs. Meadows, begins today her dramatic fight to escape the death sentence.

The girl who also testified that Mrs. Meadows before her death admitted plan for an elopement with Armour Phillips, the defendant's husband, was to face a supreme test in form of cross-examination by Deputy District Attorney Frick.

Following this grilling cross-examination, Phillips plans to take the stand and bare his alleged love affair in an effort to free his wife of the murder charge.

Mrs. Phillips, alleged to have killed Mrs. Meadows while in a fury of jealousy, was racked with sobbing as she nervously and tremblingly told her story. Frick declared he would attack from every angle her story that she, Miss Caffee and Mrs. Meadows went to the secluded "death scene" after Mrs. Meadows admitted her love for Phillips.

LAPSE OF MEMORY. In the struggle that follows, Mrs. Meadows had her at her mercy, Mrs. Phillips testified, declaring that Peggy came to the rescue from a nearby automobile and knocked Mrs. Meadows down with a hammer.

Peggy previously denied striking the blow. Frick will dwell on the fact that Clara declared she did not remember following the first blow of the hammer, which as photographs show, was apparently wielded many times.

The defendant's long lapse of memory thereafter was also to be attacked. After this, and testimony by Phillips and allusions, it will be up to the jury to decide between the veracity of Peggy and Clara.

FATHER WEEPS. Each claims the other made chief plans for the "bringing of Mrs. Meadows to account," purchased the hammer and struck the fatal blow.

Fred Tremaine, the dead girl's father, who had previously threatened any one who mistreated his daughter, wept as Clara told her story.

Spectators and jury betrayed emotion as Clara repeatedly cried out: "I was heartick. I can't explain. Nobody knows who has not experienced it."

The five alienists, who are to take the stand today are expected to testify that it is possible for persons nervously and mentally afflicted, as Clara claims to be, to do many things and not remember them.

Hall-Mills Slayer Kin To One, Church Janitor Says

TURKISH SULTAN DETHRONED

Monarchist Deposed by Action of Angora Assembly

POWERS VESTED IN NATION

Law of Succession to Sovereignty is Abolished

LONDON — (Associated Press)

A report that the Turkish Nationalist assembly at Angora has passed a law suppressing the sultanate of Turkey and the law of succession to the throne is contained in a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph from its Constantinople correspondent, who quotes despatches from Angora.

Such action by the national assembly would mean of course that the sultan is deposed. In the future, according to the despatch, the only caliph in Turkey will be periodically elected without government prerogative, all power being in the hands of the national assembly.

ASSEMBLY DECISION

CONSTANTINOPLE — (Associated Press) — The Angora assembly last night decided unanimously that it is invested with sovereign rights and that the Turkish Nationalist government is the key-stone of the caliphate.

The decision of the assembly was announced by a salute of 101 guns.

Two resolutions were unanimously adopted by the assembly. The first said that, by virtue of organic statute and representation, sovereign rights had been vested in an alienable and indivisible manner in the moral person of the Angora assembly, which was the only emanation of the nation. The second resolution declared the caliphate was vested in the imperial family of the Osman dynasty, but that the Turkish government remains the keystone of the caliphate.

The selection of the caliph is to be made by the grand national assembly of Turkey which will choose that member of the imperial family, the resolution provides, who is the best instructed, the best educated, the most honest and the most capable.

TERMS ANNOUNCED

The decision of the Angora assembly was made known in the following terms:

"The palace of the sublime porte, having thru corrupt ignorance for several centuries provoked numerous ills for the country, has passed into the domain of history. Recently the Turkish nation, the real mistress of its destinies, the founder of the Ottoman empire revolted against its foreign enemies in Anatolia and undertook a struggle against the palace of the sublime porte which took sides with its enemies and against the nation and to that end it constituted the grand nationality of Turkey, its government and its army three itself into the struggle against the enemy from without and against the palace of the sublime porte.

"Today the era of liberation has at least been entered into. The Turkish nation in view of the treason in the palace of the sublime porte has proclaimed its own organic statute.

ASSUMED BY NATION

Article 1 of this statute stipulates that the sovereignty of the sultan is assumed by the nation.

"By Article II executive and legislative powers are conferred upon the nation.

Article VII invests the body of the nation with sovereign rights such as the right to declare war and conclude peace. (These rights were formerly prerogatives of the sultan.)

"Since then the Ottoman empire has collapsed and in its place the new national Turkish state is called into being.

"Likewise, since the abolition of the sultanate the grand national assembly of Turkey has taken its place; that is to say the government, having made common cause with the enemy, stands up by speaking of the rights of the sultan and dynasty rights. The despatch from Tewfik Pasha (the Grand Vizier of the Constantinople government) is a fantastic, feeble document such as is rarely met with in history."

The assembly then proclaimed the two resolutions dealing with the vesting of the nation's sovereign rights, and the caliphate.

Husband of Murdered Choir Singer Declares Crime Not Committed by Stranger—Backs Up Gibson Story—Witnesses Called Before Grand Jury

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., (United Press)—James Mills, husband of the murdered choir singer, stood on the scene of the Hall-Mills crime today and declared he believes there is "a great deal of truth" in Mrs. Jane Gibson's eye-witness story.

"My wife and the Rev. Hall were murdered by some one very close to one of them," said Mills, who has thrown aside his meek, inoffensive demeanor and is demanding "justice" in the case.

His form straightened and his eyes flashed a spark of fire as for the first time, he went to the Phillips farm and without emotion coolly discussed various phases of the murders.

NOT STRANGER'S WORK.

"The murder could never have been committed by a stranger," he deduced. "The person who killed my wife and Hall evidently wanted their bodies to be found and identified immediately. Otherwise they would have been thrown in the thicket of locust bushes there," he pointed out.

"The murderer, in my opinion, was related to one of them."

Mills went over with great care the course Mrs. Gibson, the "big farm" woman eyewitness, said she covered when she saw two couples angrily face each other, disputing over a packet of letters.

"I believe her story is true," he then declared, speaking of Mrs. Gibson's tale to authorities.

WARRANTS DRAWN.

Warrants charging two persons with murder of Hall and Mills have been drawn, it was learned authoritatively today.

Formal signing and service of the complaints await only closing up of minor loopholes in evidence in the hands of Prosecutor Mott, it was declared.

Simultaneously, "however, it was denied from Mott's office that the arrests are probable before the first of the week."

AUTHORITIES SCORED

Mills scored the authorities handling the case.

"What I cannot understand," he snapped, "is why the authorities did not arrest every member of the Hall and Mills families immediately after the bodies were found."

"I would have been perfectly willing. If they had acted immediately, I am confident they would have been able to get some valuable information. But it is too late now to get anything that way. Too much time has gone by."

"But still I think that this case is going to be cleared up. Some way or other it will come out. And I want to do it. I didn't have any lawyer or detective to protect me, but the first thing that I would have been to offer a reward."

Mills made his first trip to the murder farm at the suggestion of newspaper men.

ROOSEVELT TREE UPROOTED

Mysteriously Removed From Alabama Capitol Lawn

MONTGOMERY, ALA., (Associated Press)—The Roosevelt memorial tree, which has been the subject of a controversy since planted on the Alabama capitol lawn by Montgomery boy scout las. Friday, mysteriously disappeared last night and today officials still were without the identity of the miscreants responsible.

A note discovered by the capitol night watchman where the tree had stood read:

"Montgomery, Ala.—Get this, Alabama—

"To all concerned: The Daughters of the Confederacy are our mothers (war mothers) and this is the South. There are no trees in honor of Southern gentlemen in the capitol yard at Montgomery and our war mothers do not want this one here."

Only yesterday the controversy resulting from the Daughters of the Confederacy objecting to the tree remaining in the capitol lawn was brought to a climax by the White House Association president naming a committee to co-operate with other Confederate organizations in their efforts to have the memorial removed.

The association is a band of women organized for the purpose of preserving the original White House of the Confederacy, where Jefferson Davis resided when the capitol was located in Montgomery.

THUGS DIE IN ATTEMPT TO ROB TRAIN

Bandits Shot in Battle With U. S. Agents in Missouri

MAIL IS TAKEN FROM CAR

Hidden Officers Open Fire While Pouches Are Removed

WITTENBERG, Mo. — (Associated Press) — Jack Kennedy, veteran Missouri train robber, known as the "Quail Hunter" and Harvey Logan, a former railroad employee, were shot and killed early today by postoffice inspectors, after they had robbed a mail car on a southbound passenger train of the St. Louis and San Francisco. The stolen mail, about 100 registered letters, was recovered.

Six postoffice inspectors, three railroad special agents and two deputy sheriffs were waiting near the scene of the robbery which had been anticipated thru knowledge of Kennedy's previous movements.

Kennedy and Logan were making for their automobile with the stolen mail when the officers ordered them to halt.

Inspector Bob Ward of St. Louis, who was in charge of the officers, said the bodies of the two robbers were found with revolvers clutched in their hands.

A coroner's jury held an inquest before daylight and returned a verdict of justifiable homicide.

ROBBERY DESCRIBED

Describing the robbery, inspectors said that Kennedy and his companion stopped the train, number 805, running from St. Louis to Memphis, at Seventy-six, a station seven and one half miles north of here. Logan cut the mail and express car from the rest of the train.

The engineer and fireman were ordered off the locomotive, and Kennedy took the two cars down the track several miles toward Wittenberg.

Stopping the locomotive, the two bandits entered the mail car. The three clerks were lined up against a wall. Kennedy inspected the mail, taking several pouches to the cab of the locomotive. The locomotive then was detached and Kennedy and Logan rode to Wittenberg. About 150 yards from the station the two jumped from the engine, and left it running wild. Nearby was their automobile and concealed in the brush along the right of way were the officers.

Inspector Ward shouted the command to halt. It was bright moonlight and the officers could see the robbers reach for their weapons. Several of the officers opened fire and the bandits fell.

WATCHED FOR WEEKS

Kennedy has a record of seven train robberies within three years—1896-99—and had served 12 years in the Missouri penitentiary for the latest of those robberies. He has been at liberty since 1912. His movements for several weeks have been watched constantly.

Postoffice Inspector Fred Reuter said several weeks ago Postoffice Inspector Roy North ran into Kennedy near Memphis and learned that he was making frequent short trips on the line from Memphis to points in Northern Arkansas and was getting off the train and looking about the towns. North was unable to learn that Kennedy had any legitimate reason for these trips and he notified Reuter of his suspicions.

It was decided to watch the night train from St. Louis to Memphis which frequently carried considerable amounts of money from the Federal Reserve Bank, sent south to move the cotton crop.

SUSPECT CAPTURED

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (Associated Press) — William T. Deboe, a former railroad worker, was arrested today at West Memphis, Ark., and brought to Memphis for questioning in connection with the attempted robbery of a St. Louis and San Francisco southbound passenger train near Seventy-six, Missouri, early today. Deboe was docketed at place headquarters on a charge of conspiracy to rob a mail train and was ordered held for federal authorities.

PHONE WIRES CUT

ST. LOUIS — (Associated Press) — Telephone communication with Wittenberg, Mo., near where two bandits were reported to have been killed early today in an attempt to rob a St. Louis-Memphis train on the St. Louis and San Francisco railway, was cut early today, the local telephone company announced.

Advices at Chicago, Mo., differed from information available at Memphis, Tenn. in that instead of members of the train crew being responsible for repulsing the robbers and killing two, it was reported the bandits were shot to death by three special detectives when they stepped off the locomotive which they had uncoupled from the train, as it ran wild thru Wittenberg. This report said the bandits resisted and were shot down and that the engine was wrecked.

FATE WITH JURYTrial of West Virginia Mine Murder Case Ends

WELLSBURG, W. Va.—(United Press)—John Kaminski's trial on a first degree murder charge growing out of the great mine riot July 17, was placed in the hands of the jury shortly after noon today.

The state in its closing arguments asks the death of Kaminski in payment for the seven union miners and sheriff slain in the mine war. Kaminski is the first of 23 union miners charged with murder on indictments returned by a grand jury investigating the mine fighting to go to trial.

The decision in his case probably will set a precedent for the trials to follow.

Kaminski testifying in his own defense, declared he was forced into the march of 500 miners from Pennsylvania at the point of a gun. The state contended Kaminski was leader in the march and that he came to West Virginia from Canton, Ohio, for the express purpose of leading the march.

DONAHAY CALLED COMMON LIAR BY E. H. MOORE

YOUNGSTOWN—E. H. Moore, former Democratic national committeeman, in reply to a speech attacking him made at Cleveland last night by A. V. Donahay, Democratic candidate for governor, today issued a formal statement saying that Donahay is a "common liar." Donahay was quoted as saying that he did not desire the support of Moore or of any other "boss."

Moore's statement today referred to the Democratic candidate as "ignorant, incompetent and venal." He declared that Donahay had sought his support "half a dozen times" thru representatives.

Mr. Moore denied that he was supporting Carmi Thompson, the Republican candidate, saying he could not do so because of Thompson's party principles.

GIRL RAFFLES ROBS HOMES

EARL AND COUNTESS OF JERSEY AND MIDDLETON PARK, THEIR HOME. THEY WERE THE LATEST "MISS RAFFLES" VICTIMS.

LONDON—(Special)—Britain's wealthy aristocracy is up in arms against the indiscriminate introduction into society of pretty women.

A series of mysterious robberies by a band of expert crackmen believed to be led by a newcomer in society who is a Miss Raffles in disguise is attracting nationwide attention.

The latest and biggest haul of jewels beyond monetary price has been made from the castle of the Earl and Countess of Jersey—all in spite of night watchmen patrolled gates, watchdogs, bolted shutters, iron bars, and the latest thing in mechanical burglar alarms.

Society is combing the list of pretty women recently ushered into society in an effort to solve the mystery.

For some time one of the professions of the "new poor"—broken-down aristocrats with great lineage but slender purses—has been to introduce the new rich and other strangers into the charmed circle of society, for handsome cash considerations.

One of the persons thus introduced is believed to be "the mysterious Miss Raffles."

The Jersey robbery occurred several nights after a great Red Cross fete at Middleton Park, the ancestral home near Bleasdale. Visitors were taken thru the castle, and were shown the rooms where the jewels were kept, and some of these were taken out and displayed.

Several mornings later it was discovered that a band of crackmen had entered the castle in spite of all the precautions to make the place unapproachable. Even the dogs, turned loose in the great hall, were no protection. Candles in great silver candelabra lighted the rooms while the thieves worked, and in the morning were still burning.

The jewels taken were piled of all the antique and historic rings, medallions, bracelets, watches and snuff boxes. Many of these had been in the Jersey family for generations. Only the thickest clue was found—that a woman had played a leading part in the robbery.

"U. S. INDEBTED TO PROVIDENCE"Harding Calls Upon Nation to Pay in Gratitude*POINTS OUT MANY BLESSINGS*Cause for Rejoicing Shown in Thanksgiving Proclamation

(Press)—Declaring that the estate of the nation "presents very much to justify a nation-wide and most sincere testimony of gratitude for the bounty which has been bestowed upon us," President Harding in the annual Thanksgiving proclamation issued today, calls upon the American people to observe Thursday November 30, "as a day of thanksgiving, supplication and devotion."

The text of the proclamation follows:

"BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
A PROCLAMATION.

"In the beginning of our country the custom, was established by the devout fathers of observing annually a day of adoration and thanksgiving. Providence had extended through the year. It has come to be perhaps the most characteristic of our national observances and as the season approaches for its annual recurrence it is fitting formally to direct attention to this ancient institution of our people and to call upon them again to unite in its appropriate celebration. The year which now approaches its end has been marked, in the experience of our nation, by a complexity of trials and triumphs, of difficulties and of achievements which we must regard as our inevitable portion in such an epoch as that thru which all mankind is moving. As we survey the experience of the past twelve months we shall find that our estate presents very much to justify a nation-wide and most sincere testimony of gratitude for the bounty which has been bestowed upon us. The we have lived in the shadow of the hard consequences of great conflict, our country has been at peace and has been able to contribute toward the maintenance and perpetuation of peace in the world. We have seen the race of mankind make gratifying progress toward permanent peace, toward order and restored confidence in its high destiny.

"For the Divine guidance which has enabled us in growing fraternity with other peoples, to attain so much of progress and the bounteous yield which has come to us from the resources of our soil and our industry, we owe our tribute of gratitude and with it our acknowledgement of the duty and obligation to our own people and to the universe, of suffering the distracted of other lands. Let us in all humility acknowledge how great is our debt to the Providence which has generously dealt with us, and give due assurance of ourselves purpose to play a helpful and sustaining part in human advancement. It is much to be desired that in rendering homage for the blessings which have come to us, we should earnestly testify our continued and increasing aim to make our own great fortune a means of helping and serving as best we can, the cause of all humanity.

"Now, therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, President of the United States of America, do designate Thursday, the day of Thanksgiving, the day of thanksgiving, supplication and devotion. I recommend that the people gather at their family altars and their houses of worship to render thanks to God for the bounties they have enjoyed and in petition that these may be continued in the year before us.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this second day of November in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-seventh.

"WARREN G. HARDING.

FLIGHT IS BEGUNArmy Airmen Start Non-Stop

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—(Associated Press)—Lieutenant John A. MacReady and Oakley Kelly, army aviators, took off at Rockwell Field at 5:59 a. m. today in an attempt to cross the continent from San Diego to New York without a stop in the great monoplane T 2.

Oil Light Beats Electric or Gas

BURNS 94% AIR

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 25 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent oil. The inventor, G. M. Johnson, 509 W. Lake-st., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even at give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

BALLOTS FOR NEWS READERS

When voters go to the polls next Tuesday they may be more or less bewildered by the number of ballots and proposals submitted. For the convenience of readers of The Lima News, the ballots will be reproduced in the Sunday edition. Study them and preserve them for reference. You may take them to the polls with you to assist you if you so desire.

MATERIAL SHORTAGE DELAYS COMPLETION OF POWER LINE

Completion of a new 33,000-volt feed line the Northwestern Ohio Light company is constructing from Delphos to Van Wert is held up because of lack of material. Insulators and cross trees are needed to complete the line, officials say.

It may require 60 days to finish work on the line, which will supply the stone quarry at Middlepoint as well as Van Wert, according to officials. The present line is capable of carrying 13,000 volts.

CITY CAMPAIGNS FOR TAX LEVYConferences, Meetings, Talks
Are on Schedule

City commissioners are beginning the final campaign for the adoption of the two mill levy at the election next Tuesday.

Daily conferences are being held by the commissioners and outside meetings are being scheduled to explain the needs of the city and to enlist the aid of the business men.

Pamphlets showing the facts regarding the city's finances were distributed to every home in the city Friday morning. The cost of this showing paid by various public spirited business men.

Slides are being shown in all of the motion picture theaters graphically showing the proportion of money received by the city and how expenses here compare with other Ohio cities.

Arrangements were being made Friday for the broadcasting of short talks by C. A. Bingham, city manager, and the city commissioners. The broadcasting station of the Mags Piano Co., will be used.

City officials point out that it is necessary for 80 per cent of the voters to approve the measure and are urging everyone to vote in order that the necessary majority may be had.

U. S. WARNED OF SINISTER CLOUDEconomist Declares Constitution
Menaced by Amendments

TOLEDO—(Associated Press)—Declaring "America's drift from the constitution is the most sinister cloud on the political horizon," L. Winters, Chicago economist and writer, speaking before the Toledo Rotary Club today, said "our forefathers bequeathed to us the most wonderful governmental document ever devised."

"But we drilled into the constitution with a charge of dynamite by the amendment providing for popular election of senators," he said. "Now it is proposed that we light the fuse with an amendment stripping the supreme court of its power."

Mr. Winters outlined a proposed amendment to the constitution of which he said would take from the high court the power to review or annul legislative enactments.

"Such an amendment utterly destroys our constitutional form of government," he asserted. "The supreme court is the only safeguard of our lives, liberty and property. Destroy its power and a tyrannical majority could at will pass legislation which would destroy the rights of a helpless minority."

TO CALL DOCKETJudge Becker Summons Members of Bar Association

Members of the Allen-co bar have been summoned to appear in common pleas court Monday at 1:30 p. m. to hear the docket called, by Judge Fred C. Becker.

Cases will be set for two courts for three weeks. A cases will be jury matters. No grand jury will be called at this time Judge Fred C. Becker said, but it is probable the jurors will be summoned before the close of the month.

All cases on the October calendar were disposed of in some manner by the court. Many were dismissed by agreement of parties.

Workmen who are refitting the old assembly hall are transforming it into a modern court room. Trial of cases in the new court will commence November 13. In case the court room is not ready, Judge Becker will hold court in his office, and Judge E. R. Eastman, of Putnam-co will occupy the regular court room.

REV. ARTHUR LYBECK WILL FILL VACANT PULPIT HERE

The Rev. Arthur Lybeck has accepted the call to the pastorate of the First Congregational church, 8. Elizabeth-st near Market-st and will preach his first sermon Nov. 19, according to notification received by members of the church.

The Rev. Lybeck, who has presided as pastor of the Fort Recovery church for over nine years, will fill the pulpit vacated last July by the Rev. Kyle Booth, who accepted a charge in Pennsylvania.

The Rev. Lybeck and his family will move to Lima in the near future.

MATE IS ACCUSEDOhio Husband Charged With Killing His Wife

BARBERTON—(Associated Press)—Police are investigating the murder of Mrs. Ellen Lawson, 24, second wife of Paul Lawson, 24, in the bathroom of the home of her sister Mrs. Fay Grider early this morning.

Lawson, who police say shot his wife, is unconscious at the Citizens' hospital with a bullet wound in his right temple.

Jealousy is believed to have been the cause.

Mrs. Lawson's two children by a former marriage were sleeping in their bed room, when shots awakened them and Mrs. Grider.

The Lawsons were married in April, 1921, in Tennessee. They had lived since their marriage in Canton and Akron, until they separated several weeks ago.

NOMINATIONS TO END TOMORROW

Time Limit for English Parliament Filing Expires

CAMPAIGN IS SPEEDED UP

Interest Centers in Plans of Lloyd George

LONDON — (Associated Press)
—The report that Lloyd George is recovering so well from his cold and throat trouble that he will be able to fill his engagement to address a meeting in London tomorrow morning, shares the chief interest of the voters of England today with the prospect of labor in the coming elections.

The time limit for making nominations for parliament expires tomorrow so there is a keen curiosity over what Lloyd George is going to do about his threat to "spread the war" against the Conservatives.
Up to now he has not said anything definite as to his intentions in this matter.

The sound thrashing labor received in the municipal elections throughout the country Wednesday has caused the opponents of labor just about as much worry as the Laborites themselves. The leaders are not without fear that the party workers may too readily assume that the local results are prophetic of what will happen in the parliamentary elections. Warnings have been sent forth from both the Liberal and Conservative camps urging the workers not to abate their energies to prevent a labor victory on November 15.

LABOR HEDGING
In order to patch up some of its broken down fences, labor seems to be hedging a bit from its first booming cry for a heavy levy on capital.

One of the constant contentions of the opponents of the labor party is that the latter has taken its policy not from bonafide workers but from theorists and doctrinaires
"many of whom have never done a day's work for their keep." On the other hand, however, such unquestioned failures as John Robert Clynes, chairman of the parliamentary labor party, and Albert Thomas, director general of the international labor organization, strongly urge the justice and practicability of the proposed capital levy.

Writing to the Times, Mr. Clynes recalls that Prime Minister Bonar Law favored such a levy when he was chancellor of the exchequer during the war. The labor leader intimates that labor is willing to consider alternative proposals for reducing the debt.

Fine for Chest Colds Too and Is Cheaply Made at Home

When you can make, in two min-directly on the membrane and often overnight causes stubborn colds and even hard chest colds to disappear, why trifle with things that will probably disappoint?

Hacking and snuffing and also sore-ness of the mucous membrane go and you will feel fine in almost no time.
Just get one ounce of Parment (double strength) add to it a little sugar and enough hot water to make a half pint and you've got an "expensive rem-

Its soothing, healing action on the membrane is the reason so many people use it for Catarrh and acute nasal colds.—Adv.

"STRAW VOTE" IS DISCONTINUED

Result to Date Shows Tide Strong to Democrats

POMERENE, DONAHEY IN LEAD

Beer Amendment Given Preference in Test Vote Taken

Believing that the daily presentation of results of a straw vote taken in this city during the past few weeks has demonstrated itself ineffective of the general situation, The Lima News has discontinued that feature. Indications are that Donahay and Pomerene will carry Allen county by somewhere near 2,000.

The votes cast in the straw ballot on candidates for governor and United States senator showing the switch from Republican to Democratic trend toward the Democratic candidates.

With a registration of about 19,000 voters in the city, which does not mean that there will be a canvassing of the entire city, the lead attained by Donahay for governor mathematically on the same ratio to a total vote, affords indication that the Democratic candidates will carry Lima.

Pomerene, for United States senator, appears to be assured similar favor in this city. It is generally conceded by those in the know that the remainder of Allen county, including first and second wards in Delphos city and the villages and townships will boost the total at least another thousand.

These figures are based on calculations arrived at from a perusal of the straw vote taken in this territory by The Lima News and the Cincinnati Enquirer, and the big majority of Republicans changing to Democrat over Democrats changing to Republican since 1920.

Of the 1,679 votes cast in The Lima News straw vote, 809 were marked for Donahay and 711 for Thompson. For United States senator a total of 1,679 votes were counted, of which 879 favor Pomerene and 870 for Fess.

The test vote taken is about 16 per cent of the anticipated total, which is conservatively placed at somewhere between 16,000 and 17,000 in Lima. Forecasting an election results is a difficult matter, even the in past years straw votes taken during the campaign preceding the election have correctly reflected the general situation.

RESULTS ELSEWHERE: In addition to the straw ballot taken by The Lima News and the Cincinnati Enquirer, the Columbus Dispatch also has canvassed the situation. The results are practically the same in percentage on the total number of votes taken in each instance. The majorities of Pomerene and Donahay have been increasing from day to day. Even the strongest Republican territory in the state has been giving the Democratic candidates the better of it or at least somewhere near an even break.

The percentage of change from Republican to Democrat over Democrat to Republican, on the basis of the vote two years ago, is shown in the Enquirer to be favorable to the Democratic candidate for governor by almost five to one and for the Democratic candidate for United States senator it is even stronger.

An interesting study is afforded by the straw vote result on the beer amendment in all tests taken. Of 1,679 votes cast on the amendment in Lima and Delphos, 1,070 are for and 609 against, indicating that in Lima and Delphos, and the county as a whole the proposed amendment will be given a majority, unless the vote in the villages and rural precincts cut down the apparent lead in the cities for it.

To date the total vote on the beer amendment as reported in the Cincinnati paper is 19,656, of which 14,071 were cast for the amendment and 5,585 against it. This is about 2.5 to 1 in the favor of the amendment.

On the basis of the straw vote of forty staged in Ohio, this state will go Democratic anywhere between 100,000 and 200,000, that is if "straws show which way the wind blows."

DONAHEY DENIES

Refutes G. O. P. Charge He is Opposed to School Aid

Charging that Republican state headquarters in Columbus, Republican editors and newspapers are misrepresenting him in a serious manner for political effect, A. V. Donahay, Democratic candidate for governor, Friday issued a statement as follows:

"Reports that I will deprive the schools of the state of necessary funds if I am elected governor, are absolutely false. I stand on my platform, issued during the primary campaign, which says: 'I will reduce the state property tax levy and still give educational and welfare and highway departments of state government as much money as they can consistently expend. I have always been a friend of education and the schools of Ohio.'"

Donahay's record, he points out, is sufficient to correct in the minds of those who know any impression that he may be opposed to adequate support of the schools.

HUNTERS SEEK LICENSES AS RACCOON SEASON OPENS

Opening of season on raccoon has stimulated the sale of hunt licenses in Allen county sufficiently to pass the 1,500 mark, according to John T. Cotner, clerk of the courts. Cotner, however, sounds a warning to hunters and trappers in respect to other game and fur bearing animals for which the season is not yet open.

Fox, opossum, skunk, mink, muskrat and rabbit may not be legally taken until November 15. The open season on pheasant, ruffed grouse and Hungarian partridge, also commences November 15.

Jail At Delphos Being Passed Up By Wandering Bo

Their visits are regular, but the Delphos jail is in the large numbers that formerly made the autumn and winter seasons a bane for police.

From January 1 to Thursday night, only 542 knights of the road requested "flopa" at the free long place, a small attendance, considering the season. It was no uncommon thing to have 2,000 or more names of the cosmopolitans inscribed on police records.

They have been averaging two per night. They come from everywhere and depart for everywhere. Their place of residence in many cases is anywhere. Anywhere is their byword—their prerogative.

Almost every state in the union is represented on the records kept on these wanderers. Some even have stepped over international boundary lines to bank in the Delphos jail.

A lanky New Englander snoozing beside a bronzed son of the plains from the Gulf states is common sight. In only one thing—their happy so lucky attitude—are they equal.

Authorization of Power Deal by State Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio — (Associated Press) — An order authorizing the sale of the Lima Light and Power plant to the Ohio Power company, has been applied for by Thomas Newhall, owner of the public utility, it was announced by the public utilities commission Friday.

The commission at the same time granted authority for the purchase of the electrical distributing system of Ostrander by the Marysville Light and Water Company for $2,000. The company's central power station at Marysville will be converted by transmission wire with Ostrander. No raise in rates or diminution of service is permitted.

Authorization of the sale of the property of the Lima Light and Power Co. to the Ohio Power Co. is a formality which must be fulfilled before the latter company can legally operate in the state.

The actual transfer of the property took place Wednesday and the action Friday was more or less a mere confirmation of the sale and approval of the transfer, it was announced here.

RUSSELL CHOSEN DIRECTOR OF FIRST NATIONAL BANK

W. L. Russell was elected to the board of directors of the First National Bank at a meeting of the board Friday morning. It was announced following the meeting.

No action was taken on the vacancy existing in the official roster thru the resignation of O. B. Sullivan, president, which was announced following the meeting a month ago.

Russell recently purchased a large block of the stock of the bank and his election to the board of directors had been a certainty. Expansion in the activities of the bank is expected.

MEETING PLACE IS TRANSFERRED

Workmen Fail to Complete Tabernacle in Time

Inability of the workmen to have the furnaces and the lights installed in the tabernacle by Sunday night will make it impossible for it to be used by the prohibition forces Sunday night.

The carpenter work on the building has advanced far enough to permit the meeting being held but with the possibility that it would be impossible to heat it the meeting was transferred to Memorial Hall.

Finishing touches will be put on the building and its equipment next week. The platform will be braced and the doors and windows hung by the carpenters and door keepers for the series of meetings will be assigned their places at the tabernacle Friday evening. All those who have volunteered or who are willing to aid in the work will meet at 7:30 p. m.

Prayer meetings Friday were well attended. More than 70 groups met in various portions of the city. It was announced. There will be no more meetings of this kind until next Tuesday.

Noonday shop meetings will be started Monday. This will be more or less preparatory for the opening of the meetings November 12 when Dr. Biechewitz arrives in Lima.

SHOOTS BROTHER

Oklahoma Man Kills Kin Over Former Wife

OKLAHOMA CITY — (Associated Press) — A murder charge was filed today against A. R. Bowen, who last night shot and killed his brother, W. C. Bowen, as the latter, in custody of officers, fled from a train from Muskogee, where he was arrested on a charge of failure to provide for his wife and children.

Bowen told authorities that he killed his brother because the latter had boasted that he was the father of A. R. Bowen's children. In his cell Bowen expressed the belief that his former wife was on the train with his brother at the time of the shooting.

Both men had been divorced. According to a complaint on file here, W. C. Bowen, a newspaper editor, abandoned his present wife and two children here some time ago. A. R. Bowen's children are grown.

SCOUT LEADER TO ADDRESS DELPHOS KIWANIS CLUB

Joseph M. Butcher, Boy Scout executive controlling the states of Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia, has been secured to address the regular noonday luncheon of the Kiwanis club Monday, it was announced Friday by the committee in charge of arranging a scout program.

The 18 scouts composing the Delphos organization will be present at the luncheon, in acknowledgment of the assistance given the Scout movement by the Kiwanis club.

LIMA FIREMEN ACCEPT DELPHOS "GOLF" DEF

Smiles spread over the faces of the Lima extinguishers of configurations as they read the def of the Delphos firefighters.

The Lima firemen asserted that they could defeat Delphos in a walk-away at barnyard golf.

Formal acceptance of the challenge was sent to Delphos Friday. Lima, however, insisted that the team be composed of eight men in order to show Delphos that Chief Mack's squadron is composed entirely of expert hurlers.

Chief Mack announced that he would be present at the match.

LEGION WILL FORM AUXILIARY

Delphos Post Plans For Women's Organization

Formation of a women's auxiliary was decided upon at a meeting of Commemorative post, Delphos American Legion, meeting Thursday night. A committee composed of Dett Swihart, chairman, Otto Heame and Kenneth Krutch was appointed by Commander G. L. McKenzie and will report at a special meeting November 9.

Mothers, wives and sisters of all Delphos ex-service men will be invited to join the auxiliary. The legion has already figured on their cooperation for several enterprises, including a tag day November 11 and a bake sale sometime later.

William Eichenhorst was appointed to direct the sale of tags, which will be turned over exclusively to the women.

The bake sale committee is composed of Alden Baker, Isadore Bonifas, Raymond Lang, John Falke and Thomas Finley. Proceeds will be used for advancement of the legion.

Little cuts and scratches are aggravating and painful, and they can even become dangerous if infected. Prevent such a condition by cleansing the injured spot well, and then applying RESINOL OINTMENT. BOY BREAKS ARM AT WRESTLING

Delphos Physicians Kept Busy With Operations

A trio of unusual surgical cases were brought to light in Delphos Thursday. A child had to have a grain of corn extracted from its nostril. A woman broke the little toe on her right foot by stumbling over a carpet and a school student had his left arm fractured in a test of strength against a schoolmate.

Robert, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Kinley, stuck a grain far back in his nose while playing on the floor with an ear of corn. It was necessary to chloroform him to extract the kernel.

Mrs. Lloyd Wilson did not know for some time after the accident occurred that the small toe of her right foot was broken. It began hurting her and an X-ray revealed the fracture.

Carl Wasman, 14, son of Herman Wasman, south of Delphos, challenged a fellow student to wrestle him. The challenge accepted, the boys clasped hands and began yanking. The result was that young Wasman with favor his left arm for four or five weeks. Both bones in the arm were broken.

PLEADS GUILTY

Charged with the theft of a shock of corn, Alva Boop, laborer, Wapakoneta, entered a plea of guilty before Justice E. M. Botkin Friday and was fined $5 and costs and sentenced to serve five days in jail.

The sentence was suspended by the court on condition that he pay the fine.

GRAPE FRUIT SPECIAL, 6c EACH, 22 FOR $1.00. THE THOMAS GROCERY

THREE FINED FOR TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS BY JACKSON

D. W. Brittlinger, 533 N. McDonough-st., was fined $3 for driving a Yellow Cab company truck over the sidewalk near the Argonne hotel, by Judge Jackson in police court Friday morning.

L. L. Daniels and Harry Falkner were fined $5 each for driving automobiles with wrong licenses.

Carl Oliver pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault and trial was set for Thursday, Nov. 9.

John Van Ostein, charged with being drunk, failed to answer to his name and his bond of $25 was forfeited.

NEILL COMMITTED

Columbus Grove Youth to Jail on Liquor Charge

Charles Neill, 21, Columbus Grove, who was fined $500 and costs on each of two charges of possession and transporting liquor before Justice E. M. Botkins, was committed to the county jail Thursday night when he told the court he could not pay his fine.

Neill was found guilty earlier in the day, but sentence was deferred to allow him to file a motion for a new trial if he cared to do so. The severity of the sentence proved a surprise to the defendant.

Neill was one of a party of four youths arrested at Gomer Monday night, after they had created an alleged disturbance at a box supper. The car in which the whisky was said to have been found by Deputy Sheriff Fraunfelder may be confiscated by the court. A mortgage for $300 is held by Mrs. Edward Neill, the defendant's mother.

If the car is sold, Judge Botkin indicated, the mortgage will have to be satisfied from the proceeds.

MISS HARLOFF IS ELATED OVER 25 LBS. GAIN

People who have suffered until they have become discouraged and out of heart should gain new hope by the experience of Miss Ida Harloff, 1823 Chase St., Toledo, O., who declares: "I have gained twenty-five pounds by taking Tanlac and am now as strong, well and happy as if I had never been sick a day."

"I had suffered from indigestion and poor circulation for a year or more and when my father started me on Tanlac I scarcely had strength to put one foot in front of the other. I was so thin and frail the folks at home were all uneasy about my health and, to tell the truth, I was scared nearly out of my wits, for I thought I would never get well."

But since taking Tanlac my nerves are normal, my stomach in fine condition, and my health as good as I could ask it to be. Tanlac has my highest praise."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

LIGHT IS ASSURED FOR DELPHOS

Power Plant Provided With Good Supply of Fuel

Ohio's coal situation is no bug-bear for the Northwestern Ohio Light company, Delphos, which supplies current to 22 Ohio cities and towns. Officials stated Thursday all the coal needed is available. A supply of 25 carloads is left in reserve with which the light plant protected itself early in the spring and shipments are speeding up, it was stated. Five carloads were received Thursday and six more were due to arrive Friday.

An abundance of Kentucky coal is available and the Ohio fields are opening up. Readiness, even eagerness, to supply demands has been noted by the Northwestern officers. "I find that the real trouble lies in the railroads. Mines have made repeated improvements lately, but the haphazard manner in which coal is handled by the railroads is responsible for the dearth. After railways fulfill their function as a public utility, it will soon be found that the coal situation is not as bad as it has been painted," according to J. A. Stewart, local manager in Delphos. Statements by the Northwestern officials sounded a new note in the Delphos fuel situation. The supply to private dealers is still in a precarious condition, but it is heartening to Delphos consumers that the city will not have to sit in darkness.

SOLE SURVIVOR OF BATTLE HURT

Ellis Cutting of Light Brigade
Victim of Snow Plow

AGE 85, BUT STILL ACTIVE

Rode With Cavalry to Give Poet
Immortal Theme

LEBANON, Pa. — (Special) — Ellis Cutting, sole survivor of the famous "Charge of the Light Brigade," rode unscathed thru the gallant but futile action—to be hurt by a snow plow near here.

Today, 65 years after the immortal execution of blundered orders, Cutting, 85, is alive and alert. He recalls as tho it were yesterday the charge at Balaclava, in which he participated as a youth of 37, the charge "Tennyson's poem immortalized."

With the Crimean war in progress—Britain and France allied with Turkey against Russia—the Russians attacked the allies at Balaclava Oct. 25, 1854, hoping to cut allied communications.

The "Heavy Brigade" of British cavalry made a furious charge, swept back the attackers and drove them back behind their own artillery.

The "Light Brigade" commanded by Lord Cardigan, then private, ordered to charge these cannon and prevent their removal. For cavalry, mounted and armed with lances and sabers, to charge a cannon was plainly suicidal. Lord Cardigan read the order, questioned the able delivering it, the latter, Captain Nolan, waved his arm down the valley toward the Russian cannon.

"Forward, the Light Brigade!" commanded Lord Raglan. Unquestioning the 600 troopers galloped forward, cannons flying, sabers flashing.

Beyond the allied lines Russian artillery fired guns, blank from three sides, into the gallant horse men. Captain Nolan better of the note to charge, suddenly dashed across the front of the "chapters," possibly to reverse the troops from the death trap. A shell made him the first to fall.

Straight at the cannon ran out in front into a deadly command. The numbers dwindled rapidly as converged cannon fire swept them.

The guns were reached, silenced. Small parties even attacked the cavalry behind. But a battle against such overwhelming odds could only end in annihilation. Other cavalry arrived in time to hold the ground won by the Light Brigade.

Most historians say a third of the Light Brigade survived. Cutting, tho, was only six came out alive. Lord Cardigan was one of the six.

I can't describe it, it's beyond my power to say. We were swept, then that hell of the and death before nothing, knowing nothing to him nothing but a desire to reach the Russian lines.

Everyone hoped to pick a man. All I thought was to get him first. A LIVE TODAY.

"Instead of rushing in cavalry, Lord Raglan ought to have ordered an infantry maneuver. That would have saved hundreds of brave boys."

Cutting later served in the British army in Indian mutinies, in the Lucknow siege, in Egypt and in South Africa. The only wound he received was a brained thrust in one foot.

Coming to America, he became a fireman on what is now the Rock Island, was promoted to engineer six months later and served until pensioned in 1910.

Forty years ago, he was thrown as a foot by a heavy snow plow, and sustained several broken bones. Aside from that, he has never been hurt in railroading.

"From this" Cutting, the railroaders call him all over the Rock Island system. He reads newspapers without his glasses, and he walks the miles or more every time he goes downtown from his home.

Bonus Question to Feature Election in Iowa

ILLINOIS BALLOTS ON BEER

Kansas Citizens Pass on Industrial Court Law

DES MOINES, Iowa — (United Press)—The fate of a bonus for Iowa veterans of the world war will be decided by the voters of the state at the November election.

A bill providing for a $22,000,000 bond issue, in order to raise funds to pay every person, male or female, including nurses, who served in the war fifty cents for each day of service, will be submitted to a referendum. No bonus is to exceed $350. In case the person entitled to a bonus is deceased, it is to be paid to the husband or wife or immediate relatives.

All funds remaining in the hands of the bonus board after Dec. 31, 1924—not in excess of $2,000,000—are to be used to aid disabled war veterans.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — (United Press)—Illinois voters will have two short ballots to act on in the November election—a state bond issue of $65,000,000 to pay Illinois ex-service men a bonus and a referendum on beer and light wines.

The bonus bill will read as follows: "Shall the State of Illinois contract a debt of $65,000,000, issue bonds to that amount, and levy annually a direct tax sufficient to pay the interest on such bonds, as it shall accrue and to pay off and discharge the principal of such bonds within twenty years from issuance, in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the General Assembly of Illinois entitled, 'An Act to provide payment of compensation to certain persons who served with the military or naval forces of the United States in the recent war with Germany.'"

The beer and light wines referendum follows:

"Shall the existing State and Federal Prohibition laws be modified so as to permit the manufacture, sale and transportation of beer containing less than four per cent by volume of alcohol and light wine for home consumption?"

TOPEKA, Kansas — (United Press)—The Kansas industrial court law, annulment of recent legislation, will go to the voters for a referendum in the November elections.

Followed by a republican administration headed by Governor Henry J. Allen, the industrial court has been attacked by political opponents and the democrats in state convention here made repeal of the law a campaign platform.

Republicans in state convention passed a platform plank pledging support to the new idea.

The law has been severely criticized by labor since its inauguration and political lines will be broken away in the referendum vote.

FARGO, N. D. — (United Press)—The issue in North Dakota politics in the November election remains "nonpartisanship". Candidates will carry no orthodox party banner.

Following the recall of the non-partisan administration in October, 1921, some politicians believed "Townleyism" was dead and advocated breaking the fusion (Independent Voters' Association) which has existed since 1916, when the non-partisans captured the republican party and were swept into office by a majority of 57,000. They wanted to resort to strict party lines because of congressional and senatorial elections and presidential elections two years hence.

They were bombarded out of their sense of security, however, in the June primaries when Lynn J. Frazier, recalled nonpartisan governor, was nominated on the Republican ticket by a majority of 5,000 over Porter J. McCumber, veteran senator. The Republican ticket presented the curious aspect of being headed by one of the most prominent non-partisans for the senate and a governor of strong independent affiliations with the rest of the ticket divided, independents, however, in the majority.

Then it was decided to keep to the preliminary agreement of a fusion ticket made by dovetailing independent candidates on both tickets. This meant supporting J. F. T. O'Connor, democratic candidate, for the senate.

Non-partisans, who secured the majority of the Republican central committee, retaliated by nominating Wm. Lemke, recalled attorney general and their national vice president, for governor and other candidates to fill out a ticket.

Further complications arose when Chas. Simmons, democratic nominee for governor, refused to abide by the fusion arrangement and declared he would remain in the race.

A grain grading law fostered by the non-partisans and opposed by the independents will also be before the voters in November. This is to take the place of a law passed by the non-partisan legislature in 1919 and declared unconstitutional by the federal supreme court.

BLUE TRIANGLE IS AID TO GIRLS

Young Women's Christian Association Has Broad Scope

FINDS WORK FOR MANY

Organization Haven of Refuge From Trials of World

The Blue Triangle—the emblem of the Y. W. C. A.—is coming to be recognized by every girl in Lima as the sign of a haven of refuge when the trials of the world become too burdensome.

This, according to Miss Ruth Seymour, general secretary, is known to be true by the ever increasing number of girls, who apply for assistance from their cares and troubles to the Y. W. C. A.

The Blue Triangle employment department has placed 567 girls and women in self supporting positions in the past year. Out of this number, a considerable percentage has been married women who were forced to become the family breadwinners during the industrial depression last summer.

Besides finding employment for almost every girl or woman who apples for assistance, the rooms registry department sends them to rooms, which have been approved by the department and where the girls will be surrounded by a homelike atmosphere. To avail themselves of this helpful service, girls pay no fee and the assistance is open alike to members and non-members.

In connection with the rooms registry, a number of girls who would otherwise have been compelled to quit school have been found positions, where in exchange for a few hours of work, they receive room, board and a salary large enough to enable them to buy sufficient clothing.

Rooms have been secured for 214 girls who asked to be directed to homelike lodgings, and 78 transient girls have been cared for for various lengths of time, according to figures given out Tuesday.

In a great majority of cases, rooms have been secured for girls from surrounding villages, who have come to Lima to secure positions.

In connection with providing jobs and homes for girls who wish to continue their high school education, the Y. W. C. A. aided by the Mercy Circle and The Lima Loan Scholarship association has provided funds necessary for them to take courses in business colleges.

The physical education department has more members enrolled in the various gymnasium classes than at any time previous. At the present time, 75 business girls, 25 matrons, and 50 high school girls are enrolled in one or another of the classes and are taking training in physical education regularly.

Basketball leagues are being formed and a regular schedule will start directly after Thanksgiving. Bowling leagues are also planned. The matches will be rolled at the Y. M. C. A. alleys.

LIBRARY POPULAR

Delphos Youngsters Make Good Use of Institution

"Napoleon. Let's see, I wonder who he was. Inventor of the telephone! No. King of Spain! I don't think so."

Thus ruminating, the young thinker soon exhausts his own information and takes the short route to a solution by marching off to the library.

Increased use of the Delphos library as an aid in strengthening young minds is reported by Miss Rossett, librarian, who says that most school pupils, from the little tots to high school students, avail themselves of the advantages it affords in supplementing their education.

Every day students pore over bulky volumes of profound wisdom and revel in the delights of unearthing some particles of hidden lore with which to startle teacher and outshine their classmates.

Of the more than 6,000 volumes in the library, fully one-fourth are reference works, according to Miss Rossett.

HE SAYS IT IS A WONDER REMEDY

Plant Juice Relieved a Lima Man of Stomach Cramps, Pains and Misery

NOW EATS AND SLEEPS FINE

"When I came to Lima," said The Plant Juice Man at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, "I told the city to prepare for some unusual cases of recovery from poor health. Certain men of the drug world may have thought that I was a little bold, that I was predicting more than my remedy could accomplish, but I know Plant Juice as no one else and the fact that my prediction has come true is being proved each day.

Crowds of Lima citizens are now flocking to me each day to have me explain Plant Juice to them and already a great many Lima people have taken my medicine and derived surprising relief from its use.

Just recently, Mr. Casper Bils, of 1235 South Union street, Lima, a well-known employee of the Locomotive works, called on The Plant Juice Man and gave the following surprising testimonial.

"For months I had been suffering from severe stomach trouble," said Mr. Bils. "I could not eat without suffering from gas pains and cramps and I had had headache and pains in my side and kidneys. I was nervous and could not sleep and was generally run down in health."

"Since I have taken your Plant Juice I am glad to recommend it. I do not suffer from pains in my back or side now. The headaches have been relieved and I eat well and sleep better than in many months. I am certainly glad Plant Juice came to Lima for I consider it a wonder-medicine."

Many people who take Plant Juice say this remedy seems to act like magic on the stomach, liver and kidneys. It is made from the juices of medicinal plant life, gathered from the fields of nature, and is, therefore, a natural medicine.

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office—Adv.

BIG AIRSHIPS TO CARRY 100

Great Passenger Service Planned by Great Britain

LONDON — (United Press) — Airship passenger service encircling the globe will soon be inaugurated. The British government is expected shortly to announce plans for a government air service between England and India. It will operate on a large scale than anything heretofore conceived. Later, the service will be extended to Australia. Definite plans have also been prepared for the establishment of a regular airship line across the Atlantic. This latter venture has been undertaken by the General Air Service. Officials of the British Air Ministry state that they are prepared to offer any assistance. It is not impossible that the trans-oceanic airway will be in conjunction with the British Government's Indian service. A special fleet of huge aircraft will be constructed for the route between London and New York. Each ship will be 900 feet long, 114 feet in diameter and capable of carrying 100 passengers. They will have a cruising speed of 75 miles per hour compared with 25 knots now attained by the speediest ocean liners. Bankers, commercial representatives and government officials will profit by the extraordinary reduction in the time required to cross the Atlantic. Additional ships will be constructed as the popularity of air travel increases among tourists to and from the United States. The journey from New York to London will take 48 hours. The passenger quarters will consist of well-furnished state-rooms, complete restaurant facilities, music and every provision for comfort and convenience.

NATION REVERTING TO DIGNITY IN DANCE

CHICAGO — The jazz era is passed. The nation is reverting to dignity in its dance and music. Long skirts and public opinion have banished the shimmy and the saxophone. Dancing masters and musical directors of Chicago today agreed the syncopation craze is dead. "Dancing changes with women's styles," said Louis Guydon, dancing master. "When women wore short skirts and checked their corsets, they had greater freedom of movement, which is now impossible with the tight, long, clinging gown."

FOLKS NATURALLY MODEST

So Liner-Swimming Instructor Approves One Piece Suit

AT SEA, ABOARD S. S. MAJESTIC. (Special).—An official O. K. has been placed on the one-piece bathing suit for the middle of the Atlantic ocean. Miss Winnie Elliot is the censor of transatlantic morals who has issued the decree. She is swimming instructor in the pool of the steamship Majestic. Also censor. And she herself wears a one-piece suit—and no stockings. "I have never seen an immodest suit," says Miss Elliott. "I think most people want to be modest anyway. Besides, the prettiest bathing suit always have ample material in them."

Miss Elliott ought to know. For her job not only includes giving swimming lessons to passengers, but also advice on what they ought to wear at the beaches of the world. She's an international bureau of information on beach fashions—what they wear along the Riviera, at Deauville, Biarritz, Florida, California, anywhere. Miss Elliott is an English girl. Her moment of triumph, she says, came last August when she gave a swimming exhibition before King George and Queen Mary. Aboard the Majestic she is studying psychology on the theory that it will help her in teaching the ship's passengers how to swim. She owns 14 medals, won in races since she was 10 years old.

37 SENATORS TO BE ELECTED

Entire House Membership to be Chosen Tuesday

32 STATES NAME GOVERNORS

Outcome Regarded as Test of Harding Administration

WASHINGTON. — (Associated Press.)—America's barometer of political and public opinion will be read in the polls, Tuesday, November 7, when another national House of Representatives, more than a third of the Senate membership, and 32 state legislatures and local officials, will be chosen.

Nationally, the general election Tuesday is the first of the Harding administration, thus it is regarded by many as a test, bearing upon the Presidential campaign. The Republican "line" go before the country largely on the record of President Harding and the present Congress, an issue accepted by their democratic and other opponents.

Excepting in Maine, where elections were held last September, the sixty-eighth Congress of 435 members will be chosen Tuesday from all states. Thirty-seven Senators in 34 states also will be elected. The states electing governors are Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

SENATE LINES

The battle of ballots thruout the country largely is between the two dominant parties, Republican and Democratic. The election is marked by virtual passing of the Progressive, or Bull Moose, party. Socialists, Prohibitionists, Farmer-Labor, Single Tax and other organizations, however, continue on the local campaign, and often affecting the congressional contests, are the liquor, Ku Klux Klan and other questions. Congressional candidates mostly are for the Sixty-eighth Congress which will not assemble until December, 1923, unless a special session next summer should be called. Of the 37 Senatorial seats at issue, 2 are for regular terms of six years beginning in the next Congress and due to fill vacancies by death and resignation. In addition to the 435 members of the next House to be chosen, there are three to fill vacancies in the coming winter session, two from Nebraska and one from Illinois.

Capture of control of the next House is the avowed objective of the democratic organizations or, at least, material reduction of the present republican majority of 165. The House now has 236 republicans, 136 democrats and one socialist, with eight seats vacant. A turnover of more than 50 seats is required for loss of the next House by the republicans.

SENATE COMPLEXION

The Senate now has 50 republicans, one republican-progressive and 43 democrats, with 17 republicans and 13 democratic seats in the next Congress at issue Tuesday. Democratic leaders have said that only a landslide would change the political complexion of the next Senate at its election.

Republican leaders expect to increase their Senate majority by a few members, and they also say they expect defeat of a number of sitting House members, swept in two years ago in the Harding victory. Democratic managers on the other hand are predicting some Senate as well as House accessions. Principal spots where republicans hope to oust democratic Senators are: Representative Fess, republican, chairman, Missouri, where Senator Reed, democrat, is opposed by Representative Fess, republican, former congressional committee chairman; Missouri, where Senator Reed, democrat, is opposed by Representative Fess, republican, former congressional committee chairman; Missouri, where Senator Reed, democrat, is opposed by Representative Fess, republican, former congressional committee chairman; Missouri, where Senator Reed, democrat, is opposed by Representative Fess, republican, former congressional committee chairman.

Stephen B. Davis, Jr. Democratic hopes of Senatorial gains largely are centered on: New York, where Senator Calder, republican, is opposed by Dr. Royal C. Copeland, New York health commissioner; New Jersey, where Senator Frelinghuysen, republican, is opposed by Governor Edwards, democrat; North Dakota, where former Gov. Lynn J. Frazier, republican with Non-Partisan League backing is against J. F. T. O'Connor, democrat; Maryland, where Senator France, republican, is fighting William Cabell Bruce, Indiana, where former Senator Albert J. Beveridge is pitted against former Governor Samuel M. Ralston, Connecticut, where Senator McLean, republican, against Thomas J. Spellacy, Washington, where Senator Pinckney, republican, is against C. C. Dill, former Representative, and Michigan, where Senator Townsend, republican, is opposed by former Governor Ferris.

There are 26 Senators who are candidates for continued service. Three, Senators McCumber, republican, N. D., New, republican, Indiana, and Culberson, democrat, Texas, were defeated for re-nomination in the recent primaries, while three more whose term expire March 3 next, Senator Page, republican, Vermont, Steiwer, democrat, Montana, and Williams, democrat, Mississippi, are retiring and did not stand for re-nomination.

WOMAN CANDIDATES

There are two women candidates for the Senate from Minnesota and Wisconsin and a score for the House, with many others for municipal and other local offices. The present and first woman Senator, Mrs. W. H. Felton, of Georgia, appointed to succeed the late Thomas Watson, is not a candidate for election, while the lone woman House member, Miss Alice Robertson of Oklahoma, is fighting for re-election in a normally democratic district.

For the 435 House seats there are 1,016 candidates including 370 present members—249 republican, 129 democrats and one socialist. Fifty-seven sitting members, 46 republicans and 11 democrats, did not seek re-election. Prominent among these are "Uncle Joe" Cannon and Representative Fordney of Michigan, chairman of the ways and means committee.

Fifty-seven House candidates are sure of winning Tuesday, being without opposition and some holding nominations of both republicans and democratic parties. Of these 43 are democrats and 14 republicans.

Breaks in several solid state delegations to Congress are predicted. While the solid democratic contingents from southern states are expected to show no change, democratic leaders are predicting breaks in the solid republican ranks now coming from Ohio, Nebraska, Connecticut, Indiana, Kansas, Minnesota, and possible Oregon, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

GAMBLING DRAWS AMERICANS

Heavy Players at Brazil's Centennial Exposition

FIND GAMES PLENTIFUL

Action Sought in Roulette, Stud and Draw Poker.

(BY MILES W. VAUGHN)
RIO DE JANEIRO. — (United Press).—One of the most popular pastimes of foreign visitors to Brazil's centennial exposition is gambling.

Some of the visitors confine their efforts to the purchase of lottery tickets, others try the "bicho," but the majority was the flicka gooddoes it one or the other of the recognized clubs.

There is a lottery drawing every week-day, and the prizes range all the way from twenty centos to two hundred centos. Special drawings of value, "secundaria" lotteries, have even greater prizes—1,000 and 5,000 centos. A centos at today's exchange is nearly $120 American money.

In the Rio telephone book there are 82 lottery agencies listed. At least five times that number of booths, stands and small stores all over the city are devoted solely to sale of lottery tickets. Peddlers sell them on the best cars, in cafes and restaurants and on the streets. Small boys and girls who ought to be in school, cripples and deformed persons, old men and women and young girls of fifteen and sixteen, and young ladies, who don't want to work, they all sell them. The tickets cost all the way from 8 centos to $27, depending on the amount of the main prize and the number of tickets sold.

"Bicho" is played on the term numbers of the daily lottery—the last two figures of the winning number. There are 23 "bichos" ("bichos" by the way, are birds, snake and animal). Each bicho number corresponds to a group of four terminations. For instance No. 1 is the ostrich and its group is 01, 02, 03, and 04. No. 23 is the cow, a terminations 97, 98, 99 and 00. The odds against the player are 21 to 1. If he wins he gets 22 to 1. The game is illegal, but it is so popular and universally played that the police will have a hard time to stop it. Many members of the permanent American colony are regular players.

AMERICANS WANT ACTION
The American visitor however, demands something he can see and "get action" at the same time. There are a dozen afternoon clubs where "action" can be had and where a "bank roll" is the only vocation required. Roulette, baccarat, chemin-de-fer, "campista"—which is simply faro—stud and draw poker games are all ready and waiting.

There are about twenty clubs which open only after midnight and run until dawn. These clubs offer near-elaborate shows and dancing as added attractions. The main reason for their existence is gambling. One American won $5,000 in a little over an hour's play the other night. He left for Buenos Aires the next day, so the house had no chance to get it back.

Except in specially erected buildings at seaside resorts, roulette is prohibited yet any foreigner who has a special yearning to try out his system of his guessing ability will find no difficulty in locating a place where the ball is spinning merrily.

One of the most prominent clubs in the city has an American dealing stud poker. So far this has not been a paying proposition mostly because the American visitor prefers to buck the other games.

'UNIVERSAL AUNT'
NEW PROFESSION

London Lady Gets Inspiration
From Demands of Relatives

DOING GOOD BUSINESS

Miss Satara Fort, Special Advisor, Assistant or Aide

(By MILTON BRONNER)
LONDON—Let the "Universal Aunts" do it!

It makes little difference what the job is—meeting the children at the railroad depot, caring for your pet animals or buying a trousseau for a bride—they will see that it's done. It's their business.

Organized by Miss Satara Fort, an enterprising young woman from Lincoln, this group of "Universal Aunts" now consists of 165 workers who are doing a flourishing business here helping others.

TOO MANY RELATIVES
It all developed from Miss Fort's having too many relatives.

When she came to London her married sisters, brothers, cousins, aunts and uncles kept asking her to meet their sons, daughters and friends take them to the zoo or out shopping and look after them generally. She was so fine a guide, that they sent others.

So Miss Fort said:
"I am constantly being of service to my nieces and nephews when they come up to London why shouldn't I be a sort of universal aunt to anybody who pays me a fee for my work?"

She took a small office, hung out a huge brown flag bearing in big white letters the legend: "Universal Aunts," and went to work. Her success was instantaneous. The organization grew rapidly.

READY FOR ANYTHING
It would be hard to tell what the "Universal Aunts" won't do. They announce themselves "ready" at any moment for any undertaking.

In the course of one week here are some of the jobs they performed.

Met travelers at the stations and looked after them; furnished chape-raons for young couples; conducted special shopping parties; got d.
rented and furnished some houses;
arranged a bazaar; gave bridge lessons, attended to the gardening on some estates; told fairy tales to children at some birthday parties; sold home products, looked after visiting laundry, arranged a wedding, and placed some servants.

AN OPEN LETTER

To the Voters of Lima and Allen-co
MY FRIENDS: There's one really big thing I would call to your attention today. An election will be held next Tuesday. You will choose men for state, district and county offices, an important undertaking.

I have been told there is a lack of interest on the part of many of you; that you are refusing to be enthused by this biennial battle of ballots, the results of which are certain to affect your pocketbooks in the end if you are affected in no other way. Why, then, the indifference?

I have some recommendations to make to you concerning some of my boys whose names you will note when you get your ballots next week. I know them all, upstanding fellows who will look after your best interests if you send them to the offices they seek.

First, there is Henry Goeke. He is candidate for Congress from the Fourth district. He's going down to Washington—with your permission—to give you real representation. That is his platform and his past record in congress and private life is sufficient proof that he keeps his word. He does not believe that districts send representatives to Washington to think for their people. He knows that they are sent there to vote the will of the people and that only in this way can we have representative government. His ability and training for this job assures you of a competent manager of your affairs at the national capital if Goeke represents you.

Next, is Judge Phil Crow. Nothing is more important than to have men in our courts who understand their job. The Court of Appeals is one of our most important tribunals and men who sit there should be chosen because of their ability rather than any other consideration. Understanding this, I have no hesitancy in recommending to you Judge Crow, presiding judge of the Court of Appeals at present. He is serving his first term. You know his record for ability, fairness, fearlessness and justice. When you are ready to mark your judicial ballot next Tuesday, don't forget that Lincoln said "Don't take a good judge off the bench."

You are particularly interested in the matter of representation at Columbus. Earl F. Ferguson, Van Wert, candidate for senator from the 32nd Ohio senatorial district, is making his campaign on a program that should appeal to you. Economy in all public matters, special attention to the welfare of the producer, soil and shop, and a halt on legislation, of which we have too much already, are a few of the pledges he makes. He is an able lawyer with ability to handle your affairs in a very satisfactory manner.

Next in line is your county representative. Clarence Miller, Lima attorney, candidate for this office, is ready to support progressive measures and ideals and represent you in an efficient manner if you elect him. His record is the best.

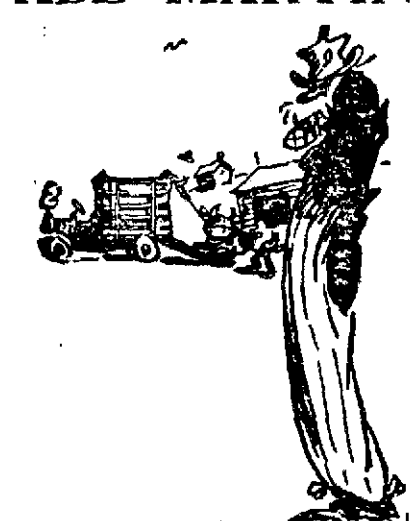

If you are an advocate of economy and careful handling of public funds, and who is not at this time, you have particular reason to support Clem Phillips, candidate for second term as county auditor. The fact that he has earned the title, "Vic Donahey of Allen-co", is sufficient reason for marking the X before his name. He is the watchdog of your county funds and so well has he done the job during his first term that important savings have been effected.

You want a man in the office of county prosecutor who is always ready to do his duty in a fearless manner. Clarence Klinger is pledged to do that if elected. He is capable, aggressive, and has the best interests of Allen-co at heart. He deserves your support.

THE MASTER PAINTERS

The office of coroner is perhaps the least important in the county as a general rule, but situations arise which bring it into prominence and demand skill and accuracy. Dr. Frank Smith is recommended for this office.

Your recorder's office will be handled efficiently and economically if you elect Julius Callahan next Tuesday. He has the ability and training in public duty to fit him for this important job.

You may never visit all of the offices in the court house, but you all go to the treasurer's office. He is the man who collects your taxes, no matter how much you may grumble. But since taxes are one of the certainties, you want to know that your money is properly handled when you pass it thru the window for the privilege of owning property in this great commonwealth. You may rest assured of that if N. W. Basinger is chosen treasurer. Most of you have met him. He was Lehr Miller's right-hand man in that office and knows the "ropes" from start to finish.

An office in which every voter is vitally interested at this time is that of county surveyor. Ed Smith is an engineer in whom residents of the county may have confidence to carry out the important road program in an able manner. His training along this line fits him well for the work and his election will be a step towards better highways.

Expansion of the road program is assured if Charley Hoffman is placed on the board of county commissioners. This is one of his hobbies and voters will make no mistake in electing him.

The sheriff is the law enforcement official of the county. It is his duty to see that the laws are respected. W. E. McCrate is pledged to perform that duty efficiently. He is well known to voters of the county who realize that he is capable of filling this important office in a satisfactory manner.

John Cotner has made such an enviable record as clerk of courts that his re-election apparently is assured. During his first term he has given universal satisfaction. He deserves your support as recognition of his efficient, faithful service.

All of these men are presented to you by the Democratic party. I believe a study of their records and abilities will convince you they should be elected to the offices to which they aspire.

TOP-HEAVY ODDS

Said old Jim Budd, the gambler:
"I've often staked my wad,
And watched the wheel come even,
When I have backed the odd;
I've played the racin' ponies, I've plunged a heap at stud,
There wasn't any game of chance that frightened Jimmy Budd.
I like the thrill of gamblin', it's breath of life to me,
I'll take a shot at anything an' bet
my money free,
I'll shove my stack across the board
if there's a chance to win,
But I won't gamble on this stuff they're sellin' now as gin!"

"I've bucked the fero outfits, I've rolled the bones as well;
I've won an' lost more heaps of jack than I would care to tell;
I've took my losses smilin', the way
a guy should do,
At any game I've ever seen that's either old or new.
My limit was the bright blue sky,
an' people used to say
I never moved an eyelash when my pile was swept away.
I had my bouts with barleycorn before the land went dry,
But I don't take no chances now on Prohibition Rye!"

"I never was no piker, I ain't no
piker now,
But every guy has limits, an' this is mine, I vow;
I will not bet my years of life
against a little drink,
An' any time I get the stuff I pour it down the sink.
An' tho I've seen most everything,
I somehow ain't inclined To relish going to a home for people who are blind,
Name any game you wants play,
you'll find I won't refuse,
But I won't bet my two good eyes against a shot of booze!"

GAS AND THE HEART

Now, then, doctor, writes a skeptical correspondent, will you kindly explain what people die of when food causes fermentation and an excess of gas that crushes the heart like a clogged machine. An old friend fell into a nap soon after he had partaken of a hearty meal of peach dumplings and he never woke. The doctor said it was acute indigestion.

In rare instances there is some discomfort attributable to the formation of more than the normal amount of gas in the alimentary tract. In the presence of various organic troubles, not alone of the digestive organs but of other organs as well, actual pain or great distress may accompany the formation of an excessive amount of gas, but the gas is not responsible for the pain; the organic disease is responsible for the pain. Thus, in gallstone colic the patient suffers much pain and usually excessive gas formation; the pain is attributed to muscle spasm or cramp, not to distension or pressure by gas. Many semi-invalids know that an excessive formation of gas (or, as is often the case, the unconscious swallowing of an excessive amount of air) gives discomfort but not pain.

Nine times out of ten the young infant squalling with what Sairey Camp calls "colic" has no colic, no pain, but is simply uncomfortable, by reason of overfeeding, or under-feeding, or improper clothing, or some such cause. The infant is made more uncomfortable by the awful stuff forced down its throat
"for colic"—irritants such as peppermint, for instance. The infant cries and squalls and swallows considerable air and has a rather distended belly—and let Sairey get one glimpse of the distended belly if you want the baby to be charged with "colic!"

Well, eating is a more or less universal custom, and some of us are sure to die within a few hours after a meal. If this warrants the belief that gas formation has anything to do with the question, or that acute or any other kind of indigestion is a reality, then we might as well eat, drink and be merry, for some functional effort is required to digest any and every kind of food, and there are very few articles fit to eat which will not give rise to more or less gas formation.

Gas is a normal by product in the digestive process. It is essential to perfect health. No use trying to select this and that food which will not "form gas."

In certain common organic diseases of the arteries and heart the victim, perhaps unaware of his true condition, experiences more or less severe attacks of distress or pain, often associated with a sense of distension, and sometimes these attacks are wrongly attributed to "indigestion."

"Gas pressing on the heart" is unfortunately a popular theory. No one is greatly endangered by any such pressure, nor even seriously distressed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
The Vicky Kissenjen Route.
I am taking Vicky and Kissenjen sals three times daily, alternating, or overfatness. Will these salts harm me?—M. B. D.
Answer—In my judgment they will seriously impair your health if they do reduce your weight. Untoward and sometimes serious effects are produced by the abuse of any kind of saline cathartics.

Examination of the Heart.
Please advise whether a fairly accurate examination of the heart can be made with a stethoscope alone?
That is, would it be worth while to undergo an examination of the heart in a physical examination where no X-ray is employed?—Mrs. K. L. E.
Answer—Yes. The X-ray can only rarely disclose any essential fault of the heart and hence an X-ray examination should be sought only when your doctor deems it necessary. The functional state of the heart cannot be

RADIO FASCINATES CUBANS

Becomes Great Indoor Sport of Island's Citizens

HAVANA — (Special). — Radio broadcasting is becoming Cuba's great indoor sport. Theaters, cafes, and hundreds of private homes have installed receiving sets. Thousands listen in nightclubs. They don't seem to be able to get enough of the greatest entertainment. Amador J. Zavala, president of the Cuban Republic, not being satisfied with reception alone, he has installed a powerful transmitting station. From the privacy of his own sanctuaries he has addressed the people of the United States. Thousands heard him in the north as the Canadian and as far west as Montreal. The station was erected by the Cuban Telephone Company. It's call letters are PWK, operating on a medium wave length. Programs in both English and Spanish are now being broadcast twice a week. On the other nights, speakers and music from stations in North America and St. Louis are heard on the air.

Statement by Walter R. Toy County Surveyor

The County Surveyor has direct charge and supervision of Roads, Bridges and Ditches in the County. The scope and activities of this office are confined only in proportion to the improvements and money authorized by the Board of County Commissioners, from year to year. It is the County Surveyor's duty to prepare plans, specifications, estimates; supervise construction and approve all estimates and payments taken from the road, bridge and ditch funds of the County. I assumed the duties of County Surveyor September 5th, 1921, and have been actively engaged for one year on the following projects:—

Prepared plans for 25 miles of State and County Road program	$8,521.95
Plans and construction of 8 1/2 miles of County Road	23,438.43
Plans and construction of 9.40 miles of new stone pikes	22,849.00
Heavy reconstruction of 25 miles of old stone pikes Light reconstruction of 320 miles of old stone pikes
Light stone top dressing 320 miles of County roads	177,532.42
Plans and construction of 27 New County Bridges
Plans and construction of 28 New County Culverts	14,816.31
Plans and construction of Elm Street paving and bridge roadway	12,782.25
Repairing 198 old county bridges
Repairing 118 old County Culverts	22,427.76
Constructing 2 miles of guard railing along the most dangerous places on County Roads	3,800.00
Filled and repaired 25 washouts on County Roads	1,375.00
Painted 185 steel bridges	2,220.00
Removed 5000 ft. of dangerous ditches from County roads	5,000.00
Total	$376,114.17

We have returned to the Allen County Auditor the following amounts:—
Accrued Fees $1,311.50
County Map Sales 94.55
Special surveys 12.00
We have 934 miles of roads, 1350 County and Township ditches and 4900 Bridges and Culverts in Allen County. The heavy trucks and traffic have caused considerable damage to our detour roads and bridges, however, we have tried to keep them in repair for the State Road Contractors and the general public.

Crushed stone at the quarry bins has been reduced during the past year from $1.35 and $1.50 per cubic yard to $1.00 and $1.25 per cubic yard. This item represents a considerable saving or increase in road repair work. Personally, I have given all my time and attention to the duties of the Surveyor's Office. I have not received any expense money for car fare, auto hire or meals in connection with County business in Columbus or elsewhere. I am giving my best efforts and twenty-seven years continuous experience in surveying, engineering and construction work to Allen County at this time; have spent very little time making this campaign for the reason that I am too busy attending to the duties of this office. It has been impossible for me to please everybody during the past year and I haven't time to write a book on this subject. All I ask of the voters and tax payers in Allen County, is to investigate my record for "Honest and Efficient Service" and use your best judgment at the polls, November 7th, 1922.

Respectfully,
WALTER R. TOY
Republican Candidate for County Surveyor.

Society News

A DELIGHTFUL finale will mark the close of a very active week in the social realm with the Delta Sigma benefit-bridge party Saturday afternoon at the Elks' Home. Playing will start promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

As in the past devotees of bridge have responded splendidly to the benefit parties given by the sorority. More than 70 tables will be arranged for Saturday's party. The entire proceeds will be utilized by the sorority in its philanthropic work.

Active members of the sorority include Mrs. Glennes Woodruff, Mrs. W. L. Alligre, Mrs. Seward Folson, Mrs. Donald Mehafe, Mrs. Frank Wallace, Misses Gertrude Boese, Eloise Cunningham, Josephine Garretton, Margaret Graham, Margaret Gregg, Hope Hollister, Helen and Dorothy Hunter, Edith and Sara Laughlin, Mary Parmenter, Florence Price, Mary Kathryn, Martha and Annetta Roby.

Mrs. George L. Parmenter and Miss Gail Parmenter welcomed a coterie of friends for an evening of bridge at the Parmenter home, 1810-av, Thursday evening.

In the playing, Mrs. O. J. Dietrich held high score while Mrs. E. H. Hanes was second. Appointments in yellow and white predominated in the dainty repast, which was served following the bridge.

Guests included Misses Nellie Kreite, Helen Bower, Esther Roberts, Marie Sweeney, Mabel Bower, Lillian Brown, Los Angeles, Helen King, Mrs. J. H. Earl, Mrs. Walter Rowlands, Mrs. Charles Bower, Mrs. Howard Webb, Mrs. O. J. Dietrich, Mrs. Val Kohl, Mrs. Frank Seale, Mrs. Paul Stouder, Mrs. Raymond Taylor, Mrs. Charles Holman, Mrs. Vernon A. Hughes and Mrs. Austin Potter.

Master Donald Stephens, Harrison-av, entertained a group of his little friends at an attractive Halloween party the first of the week. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion.

Games and music were enjoyed and a delicious lunch was served by the host's mother.

Those enjoying the occasion were Lucile Perrine, Mary McClellan, Thelma Jewell, Elizabeth Lash, Evdina Mc Cluer, Stevanna Lash, John Smith, Millie Vermillion, James Smith, Helen Lash, Carolyn Deltich, Robert Robinson, Ruth Myers, Rosemary Lash, Bobbie Smith, Mrs. Grove Myers and Mrs. Lester McClellan.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Miller, E. Circular-st., were pleasantly surprised when a group of friends, in Halloween attire, gathered at their home.

The evening was enjoyed in games, music and contests, in which Misses Verle Custer, Francis Trautner and Margaret Cramer were successful. At 9:30 o'clock a delicious lunch was served.

Those present included Misses Frances Trautner, Elita Gregory, Hazel Voorhes, Verle Custer, Tillet Knapper, Anna Walsener, Margaret Cramer, Amelia Mohler, Emma Burgess, Mrs. Rose Altha Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Miller and daughter Mary Jane.

American Legion Auxiliary will meet at Memorial Hall Friday at 7:30 p. m. A large attendance is requested as plans will be made for Armistice Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett R. Curtin, Jr., Holland-av., and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace King, Shawnee, are returning from an extended motor trip thru the east.

THREE-PIECE COSTUME
The three-piece costume quite frequently has a short jacket of fur or velvet instead of the material of the gown itself. Caracul, mole and squirrel make smart little coats.

EVENING COSTUME
One of the most lovely evening gowns exploited on Broadway is of silver cloth, gracefully draped, and beaded with the thinnest of cut steel beads.

BRONZE SLIPPERS
Bronze slippers are seen in a number of attractive shapes, adorned with the new tongue and buckle effects. The most elaborate ones are beaded on the toe and some are beaded about the heel.

VICTORIAN STYLES
Quaint draperies with puffs over the hips and sashes that tie in huge bows are reminiscent of the Victorian days. Bishop sleeves also are being revived.

WHITE SATIN
White satin is no longer exclusively for the bride, but for the society but the matron as well. Frequently it is made sleeveless, and depends upon its smartness for its line and drapery. Often it is beaded with white or colored beads.

SKIRT LENGTHS
Short jackets of brown caracul are effectively worn with brown velvet or duvetyne one-piece dresses. A narrow, straight skirt, escaping the ground by from five to eight inches, gives the best line with the short fur coat.

BEAUTY QUEEN OF RUMANIA

A nation-wide contest to select the most beautiful woman in Rumania awarded the crown to Mme. Alexandrescu. European moving picture producers will star her in films which may later reach America.

THREE-PIECE COSTUME

The three-piece costume quite frequently has a short jacket of fur or velvet instead of the material of the gown itself. Caracul, mole and squirrel make smart little coats.

EVENING COSTUME

One of the most lovely evening gowns exploited on Broadway is of silver cloth, gracefully draped, and beaded with the thinnest of cut steel beads.

BRONZE SLIPPERS

Bronze slippers are seen in a number of attractive shapes, adorned with the new tongue and buckle effects. The most elaborate ones are beaded on the toe and some are beaded about the heel.

VICTORIAN STYLES

Quaint draperies with puffs over the hips and sashes that tie in huge bows are reminiscent of the Victorian days. Bishop sleeves also are being revived.

WHITE SATIN

White satin is no longer exclusively for the bride, but for the society but the matron as well. Frequently it is made sleeveless, and depends upon its smartness for its line and drapery. Often it is beaded with white or colored beads.

SKIRT LENGTHS

Short jackets of brown caracul are effectively worn with brown velvet or duvetyne one-piece dresses. A narrow, straight skirt, escaping the ground by from five to eight inches, gives the best line with the short fur coat.

GOWNS OF SHAWLS

Many of the most unique evening gowns seem to be made from Spanish or Persian shawls, knowingly draped and arranged to show to best advantage the exquisite handwork they contain.

Jack Tries Ruse to Trap Cousins

---And It Works

By ZOE HECKLEY

Jack rushed forth to bring the warfare between himself and Cousins into the open.

But at the Berlin office no one knew where Cousins was, and Jack's lance tilted at empty air. He did some tense thinking and decided on a visit to the Eureka office, the camp of his company's rivals.

He called for the manager and got him, representing himself as an American electrical engineer with big concessions in Russia.

Jack's acting was excellent. He "had many electrical supplies to contract for" and had been referred to the Eureka company "strangely enough by a Mr. Cousins."

Jack feigned great puzzlement. "Mr. Cousins, I find, is connected with the American Electrical Supply Corporation. I don't quite understand why he recommends me to a rival concern."

"Perhaps his own people cannot handle your business?" suggested the Eureka manager blandly.

"Perhaps. But I want to talk this over a little more fully with Mr. Cousins before I hand out more orders. Where is he?"

"I should think the A. E. S. C. office could tell you."

"No, they can't. They don't know."

"Ah! I am afraid I cannot either, sir." And the manager's voice showed polite concern.

Jack nodded. "

THE FLAMING JEWEL

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

CHAPTER II
Quintana, on a fox-trot along the rock-trail into Drowned Valley, now thoroughly understood that it was the only sanctuary left him for the moment. Egress to the southward was closed; to the eastward, also; and he was too wary to venture toward Ghost Lake.

No, the only temporary safety lay in the swamps of Drowned Valley. He meant to settle matters with Mike Clinch, anyway. He was not afraid of Clinch; not really afraid of anybody. It had been the dogs that demoralized Quintana. He had no experience with hunting hounds—did not know what to expect—how to maneuver. If only he could have seen these beasts that filled the forest with their hob-goblin outcries—if he could have had a good look at the creatures who gave forth that weird, melancholy volume of sound!

"Bon!" he said coolly to himself. "It was a crisis of nerves which I experienced. Yes, I should have shot him, that fat Sard. Yes. . . . Only those damn dogs. And now he shall die an' rot—that fat Sard—all by himself, paroled—the one big dead thing all alone in the woods. A bundle of guts full of diamonds! Ah—mon dieu!—a million francs in gems that shine like festering stars in this damn wood till the world end. Ah, bah—n'ome de dieu de—"

"Halt!" came a sharp voice from the cedar forest in front. A pause, then recognition; and Henri Piquet walked out on the hard ridge beyond and stood leaning on his rifle and looking silently at his leader.

Quintana came forward, carelessly, a disconcerting expression in his eyes and on his narrow lips, and continued on past Piquet.

The latter, glancing after his leader, who had walked over to the lean-to before which a pile of charred logs lay in cold ashes.

As Piquet came up, Quintana turned on him, with a gesture toward the extinguished fire. "It is cold like hell," he said. "Why do you not have some fire?"

"Not for me, mon," growled Piquet, and jerked a dirty thumb in the direction of the lean-to.

And there Quintana saw a pair of muddy boots protruding from a blanket.

"It is Harry Beck, yes?" he inquired. Then something about the boots and the blanket silenced him. He kept his eyes on them for a full minute, then walked into the lean-to. The blanket also covered Harry Beck's features and there was a stain on it where it outlined the prostrate man's features, making a ridge over the bony nose.

After a moment Quintana looked around at Piquet.

"So, he is dead. Yes?"

Piquet shrugged: "Since noon, mon capitaine."

"Comment?"

"How should I know it was the fire, perhaps, green wood or wet—"

"Is no matter now," I said to him. "Pay attention, Henri; your wood makes too much smoke. To me he reply I shall go to hell. . . . Well, there was too much smoke for me. I arise to search for wood more dry, when, crack!—they begin to shoot out there—"

"He waved a dirty hand toward the forest."

"Don," said I, "Clinch, he have seen your damn smoke."

"What shall I care?" he make reply, Henri Beck, to me. "Clinch he shall shoot and be damn to him. I cook me my dejeuner all the same."

"I make representations to that Johnbull; he says to me that I am a frog, and other injuries while he lay yet more wood on his sacrefire."

"Then crack! crack! crack! and sing-gt! whee-ee! come the big bullets of Clinch and his vovous yonder."

CLINCH STARED AT THE WOODS IN FRONT OF HIM.

"Bon! I say, 'me, I make my excuse to me."

"Then Henri Beck he laugh and say, 'Hoop it, frog!' And that is all he has find time to say, when crack!—"

"Then crack! crack! crack!—the mon capitaine—here, over the left eye! . . . Like a best surprise he go over, crash! thump! And like a best that dies, the air bellows out from his big lungs—"

Piquet looked down at the dead comrade in a sort of weary compassion for such stupidity.

"So he pass, this rascal! goddam Johnbull. . . . Me, I roll him in there. . . . Je ne sais pas purquoy. . . . Then I put out the fire and leave."

Quintana let his sneering glance rest on the dead a moment, and his thin lip curled in a scornful contempt for the Anglo-Saxon.

Then he divested himself of the blanket which he had stolen from the fry boy.

"Alors," he said calmly, "it has been Mike Clinch who shoot my friend Beck. Bien."

He threw a cartridge into the breach of his rifle, adjusted his ammunition belt on his hands here, carelessly.

"Then, in a quiet voice: 'My friend Piquet, the time has now arrive when it become yet necessary that we go from here away. Don—"

"I shall now go kill me my friend Mike Clinch."

Piquet, unastonished, gave him a heavy, hoarse look of inquiry.

Quintana said softly: "Alors, I have enough already of this damn woods. Why shall we starve here when there lies our path?" He pointed north; his arm remained outstretched for a mile.

"Clinch, he is there," growled Piquet.

"Also our path, I am Henri. . . . And, behind us, they hunt us now with dogs."

Piquet bared his big white teeth in fierce surprise. "Dogs?" he repeated with a sort of snarl.

"That is how they now hunt us, my friend—like the hunt the hare in the Coto d'Or. . . . Me, I shall now reconquer—that way!" And he looked where he was pointing, into the north—with snarling eyes. Then he turned calmly to Piquet.

"Also our path, I am Henri. . . . And, behind us, they hunt us now with dogs."

Piquet bared his big white teeth in fierce surprise. "Dogs?" he repeated with a sort of snarl.

"That is how they now hunt us, my friend—like the hunt the hare in the Coto d'Or. . . . Me, I shall now reconquer—that way!" And he looked where he was pointing, into the north—with snarling eyes. Then he turned calmly to Piquet.

quod "An' you, I am it?"

"At orders, mon capitaine."

"Cent bien, Venez."

They walked leisurely forward with rifles shouldered, following the hard ridge out across a vast and flooded land where the back of trees shimmered with wet mosses.

After a quarter of a mile the ridge broadened and split into two, one hog-back branching northeast! They however, continued north.

About twenty minutes later Piquet, creeping along on Quintana's left, and some sixty yards distant, discovered something moving in the woods beyond, and fired at it. Instantly two unaimed rifles broke from the woods' head. Piquet was jerked clear around, lost his balance and nearly fell. Blood was spurting from his right arm, between elbow and shoulder.

He tried to lift and level his rifle; his arm collapsed and he dangled broken and powerless; his rifle clattered to the forest floor.

For a moment he stood there in plain view, dumb, deathly white; then he began screaming with fury while the big soft-nosed bullet came streaming in all around him.

His broken arm was hit—snapped. His screaming ceased; he dragged out his big clasp-knife with his left hand and started running toward the shooting.

As he ran, his mangled arm flopped like a broken wing. By a lightning step he stepped out from behind a tree and coolly shot him down at close quarters.

Then Quintana's rifle exploded twice very quickly, and the Hastings boy stumbled sideways and fell sprawling. He managed to rise to his knees again; he even was trying to stand up when Quintana, taking his time, deliberately began to empty his magazine into the boy, rattling him limb and body and head.

Down once more, he still moved his arms. Side issue reached out from behind a fallen log to grasp the dying lad's ankle and draw him into shelter, but Quintana reloaded swiftly and smashed Hastings' left hand with the first shot.

Then Jim Hastings, kneeling behind a bunch of juniper, fired a high-velocity bullet into the tree behind which Quintana stood; but before he could fire again Quintana's shot in reply came rippling through the juniper and tore a ghastly hole in the calf of his left leg, striking a blow that knocked young Hastings flat and paralyzed as a dead flounder.

A mile to the north, blocking the other exit from Drowned Valley, Mike Clinch, Harvey Chase, Cornelius Blommons, and Dick Berry stood listening to the shooting.

"D'gosh," burst out Chase, "it sounds like they was goin' through, Mike. B'gosh, it does!"

Clinch's little pale eyes blazed, but he said in his soft agreeable voice:

"Stay right here, boys. Like as not some of 'em will come this way."

The shouting he heard ceased. Clinch's nostrils expanded and flattened with every breath, as he stood glaring into the woods.

"Harve," he said presently, "you an' Conny go down there an' kinda look around. An' you signal if I'm wanted. G'wan, both o' you. Git!"

They started, running heavily, but their feet made little noise on the moss.

Berry came over and stood near Clinch. For ten minutes neither man moved. Clinch sat at the woods in front of him. The young man's nervous glance flickered like a snake's tongue in every direction, and he kept moistening his lips with his tongue.

Presently two shots came from the south. A pause; a rattle of shots from hastily emptied magazines.

"G'wan down there, Dick!" said Clinch.

"You'll be alone, Mike—"

"Au right. You do like I say; k' along quick!"

Berry walked southward a little way. He had turned very white under his tan.

"G'ol ding ye!" shouted Clinch, "take it on a lope or I'll kick the pants off'n ye!"

Berry began to run, carrying his rifle at a trail.

For half an hour there was not a sound in the forests of Drowned Valley except in the dead timber where trunks woodpeckers hammered fitfully at the ghosts of ancient trees.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a young married woman 29 years old and have been married for several years. Lately my husband has been very cruel to me and I can't stand it much longer. He will not let me do a thing I want to do. He never takes me any place and I am very unhappy. What shall I do?

A DISTRESSED
An outsider should not attempt to advise one in a case such as this. Because of its importance in your future life, this problem is one which must be carefully studied and decided by yourself.

You are very young to bear the responsibility of a home and perhaps you have been a bit exacting at times. Remember I haven't heard your husband's side of the story and it would be unjust and unwise for me to censure him.

However, if you are certain that you have fulfilled your duties and exerted every effort to make your home what it should be, it is your right to decide whether or not you will remain with your husband, continuing to strive to make your marriage a success. The necessary essentials in building up a firm and lasting foundation for a happy and successful marriage are sincere affection, love, unselfishness, co-operation and service.

Dear Miss Smart:
I met a few girls from a different town and wish to know the meaning of their names. They are (a) Agnes, (b) Ethel and (c) Viola. Please tell me if I am interested in one of these girls and I therefore wish to know the meaning of the names. I was with two of these girls one afternoon and evening and they seem to be very sensible.

"IS HE"
The names all have favorable meanings and I trust that the meaning of the name of the "lady of your heart" will prove especially apt to you. They are (a) Chaste and pure, (b) noble and (c) a violet, denoting modesty.

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a young housewife and I have so many things to learn in the way of housework. Will you please tell me what will remove water rust and other stains from china and porcelain bathroom fixtures?

"MRS. NEWLYWED"
If these stains have not been standing very long lemon juice will remove them. However, if they are of long standing use a few drops of oxalic acid on a piece of tissue paper or a soft cloth. For most stains on porcelain kerosene is the best thing to use, as it makes the fixtures shine as if they had been polished as well as removing stains.

WRIST CORSAGES
Wrist corsages are a novelty and promise to have a vogue among the younger set. It is quite effective to have velvet flowers, matching the evening frock, twisted about the wrists to form bracelets.

PUFF SLEEVES
Shoulder puffs are seen on many of the new sleeves. Sometimes the puff constitutes the entire effort at a sleeve, but in other cases there is a long, tight sleeve below which reaches far over the wrist.

MONKEY FURS STAY POPULAR

YOU can be glad there is no shortage of monkeys when you realize the decorative qualities of their fur, as produced in this chic Parisian costume.

To a bizarre costume of black and gold brocade, added not only cuffs and collar of monkey fur, but a hat profusely and effectively laden with it.

Many designers have tried to bring about the downfall of the straightline costume, but nothing supplants it in the esteem of the well-dressed woman.

SLAYER SAVED BY SMILING GIRL

Juror Prevents Death Verdict in Champion Case

BRINGS ABOUT COMPROMISE

Young Woman Given Twenty Years in Prison

CLEVELAND — (United Press) — Mrs. Mabel Champion, 22, who today faced a term of 20 years in the Ohio State Penitentiary for the murder of Thomas A. O'Connell, New Haven, Conn., a rival promoter, unless the court of appeals or a higher court grants her a new trial and she is then acquitted or she is pardoned by the governor, she has no hope of parole.

The court, which imposed last night by Judge Maurice Beron after a jury convicted her of murder in the court of appeals, say Mrs. Champion, who is only 22, is one of the youngest women ever convicted of a crime that involved killing.

The jury has been very kind and merciful in my opinion," Judge Beron said. "I do not see any reason for further delay on the part of the court."

As the maximum sentence was imposed by Judge Beron last night, the story of a spectacular fight over a verdict in which a young woman on the jury had demanded the life of a girl for that of a man, A. O'Connell, is revealed.

For several hours the jury deliberated with no more success recommended—were tried in the morning and a life for a man for a man who had murdered a woman was the plan. But the jury and the girl who had demanded the life of a girl for that of a man, A. O'Connell, is revealed.

She is innocent of every charge there is not sufficient evidence to convict her," she said.

"I will not be responsible for the death of a girl," she said.

The jury of 12 women and 12 men, who had been selected from a list of 100 women and 100 men who were voting for the girl who had demanded the life of a girl for that of a man, A. O'Connell, is revealed.

compromise on the manslaughter verdict last night.

The court, which imposed last night by Judge Maurice Beron after a jury convicted her of murder in the court of appeals, say Mrs. Champion, who is only 22, is one of the youngest women ever convicted of a crime that involved killing.

The jury has been very kind and merciful in my opinion," Judge Beron said. "I do not see any reason for further delay on the part of the court."

As the maximum sentence was imposed by Judge Beron last night, the story of a spectacular fight over a verdict in which a young woman on the jury had demanded the life of a girl for that of a man, A. O'Connell, is revealed.

For several hours the jury deliberated with no more success recommended—were tried in the morning and a life for a man for a man who had murdered a woman was the plan. But the jury and the girl who had demanded the life of a girl for that of a man, A. O'Connell, is revealed.

THINKS POLITICS MAN'S GAME

Women Will Never Dominate, Mrs. W. M. Huck Says

ON JOB TO STAY, HOWEVER

Views Given by Feminine Candidate for Congress

(By CHARLES R. LYNCH)

CHICAGO — (United Press) — Mrs. W. M. Huck, a candidate for congress, said today that women will never dominate politics.

"There is no doubt that women are in politics to stay but the threatened formation of a woman's bloc to oppose men will never develop."

"Women, however, have a distinct place in politics and that is to clean it up."

"The manipulations of a male politician in search of votes are often ridiculous. Men seem to lose the issue in the minor one of how to get votes."

"Women are more sincere. They have some definite goal to gain after they reach congress. The nomination and election are only incidental to their work afterwards."

"For instance, a prominent man politician recently told me that it would take $200,000 to properly campaign the state of Illinois."

"I have covered practically every section of the state and it hasn't cost me anywhere near one-twentieth that amount."

Mrs. Huck said she would never make the race again without some organization back of her.

"Possibly with the right kind of support, I would continue in the future," she said.

LEGION ANSWERS MESS CALL AT BIG BANQUET

More than 200 members of the Legion Paul Gallagher Post No. 96 answered mess call once again at K. of P. hall Thursday night.

But it was different from army days. "Goldfish" and canned "W" were replaced by hot fried chicken and mashed potatoes. Pie and cake were substituted for bread pudding. Dinner was served by the Pythian Sisters.

Legionnaires voted the meeting a big success. The session was opened with the full ritual of the organization. Dr. E. D. Sinks, past commander, told of the growth of the Legion from 12 to 500 members.

Short talks were also made by L. H. Rogers, chancellor of the K. of P.; Tom Fearman, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Vocal solos were sung by Walter Grubb and Dale Marshall.

BROWN'S PENALTY TOTALS $2,000

Convicted on Rum Running Charge, Unable to Pay

COMMITTED TO COUNTY JAIL

Justice Botkin Orders 220 Quarts Liquor Destroyed

With $2,000 and costs in fines assessed against him, Ben Brown, 35, Cleveland, alleged rum runner, was led protesting back to the county jail from Justice Botkin's court Friday morning.

"I'm ruined right now," he told the court, "all I had was tied up in the goods, and the court's got them too."

Brown was sentenced to pay two times of $1,000 each on charges of possessing and transporting liquor. He was arrested with Al Richards at the Metropolitan garage, Monday evening. Officers found 220 quarts of whiskey in a car stored in the garage by the pair.

The whiskey was destined for a wealthy Lima customer, whose identity county officers are seeking to learn. Richards was released from custody Thursday night, after Brown, confessed guilt and testified that his companion had no knowledge of the whiskey. The liquor was stored in a secret compartment underneath the floor of the machine.

Brown threw himself on the mercy of the court when sentenced Friday, and declared that he had no money to pay and could not procure it.

Should Brown be forced to serve out his fines, he will be a steady inmate of the county jail for six years and 31 days.

Justice Botkin ordered the car found in the Metro garage be sold at auction by Constable Joe Hoover, Cleveland, owners, from whom Brown says he borrowed the machine will be given an opportunity to prove ownership.

The 220 quarts of whiskey, said to be bonded stuff, were ordered destroyed by Justice Botkin. He will write an order, he indicated, compelling the destruction in the presence of newspaper writers and other witnesses.

Brown is said to have admitted making one previous run into Lima carrying five cases of Canadian Club for a wealthy manufacturer.

OHIO 'BACKWOODS' BRINGS PROBLEMS

Tar Hollow Defies Humanitarian Efforts of Columbus

CHILLICOTHE, O. — (Special) — When the Scioto River took a few extra twists near Columbus, it started a real problem for the educational heads of a county 50 miles away.

The twists made possible the splendid conditions in Tar Hollow, north of here which health and school authorities of this county cannot break up.

Because the river cut off part of a school district west of Columbus, the state awarded the district the Tar Hollow strip in this county, and because of this, Tar Hollow defies all clean-up efforts and lives happily in dirt, poverty and ignorance.

DEPT. GLEN

Tar Hollow, in a glen deep in the hills of northeastern Ross county, is five miles from a passable road. Its residents live in miserable shacks and cabins, in dugouts and in "lean-to" sheds.

Many have never been out of the hollow in their lives—even to go to Hillsville, a village five miles away. Like tribes, families live in squalid huts, hardly fit for cattle, say county officials. Marriage laws are disregarded, school laws are flagrantly repudiated. Raggedness and filth complete the picture of a primitive life.

W. A. Yapple, county school attendance officer, and Dr. G. E. Robbins, county health commissioner, went to Tar Hollow, found these conditions existing—

But they can do nothing. Because the land belongs to a school district in a county 50 miles away, local authorities cannot force these people to send their children to Ross county schools.

REFUSE TO CLEAN

Tar Hollow folks, squatters on the land, became aware that the work of county school and health officers had been hampered some way. Since then, they have flatly refused either to send their children to school or to clean up their unsanitary habitations.

In desperation, the matter has been put up to state officials. Some contend it may be necessary to pass special legislation before the conditions can be straightened out.

One man in Tar Hollow agreed to send his six children to school, but did so only after long argument. One woman, deserted by her husband, said none of her nine children had ever seen a schoolhouse.

RED CROSS WORKERS TO ORGANIZE FRIDAY NIGHT

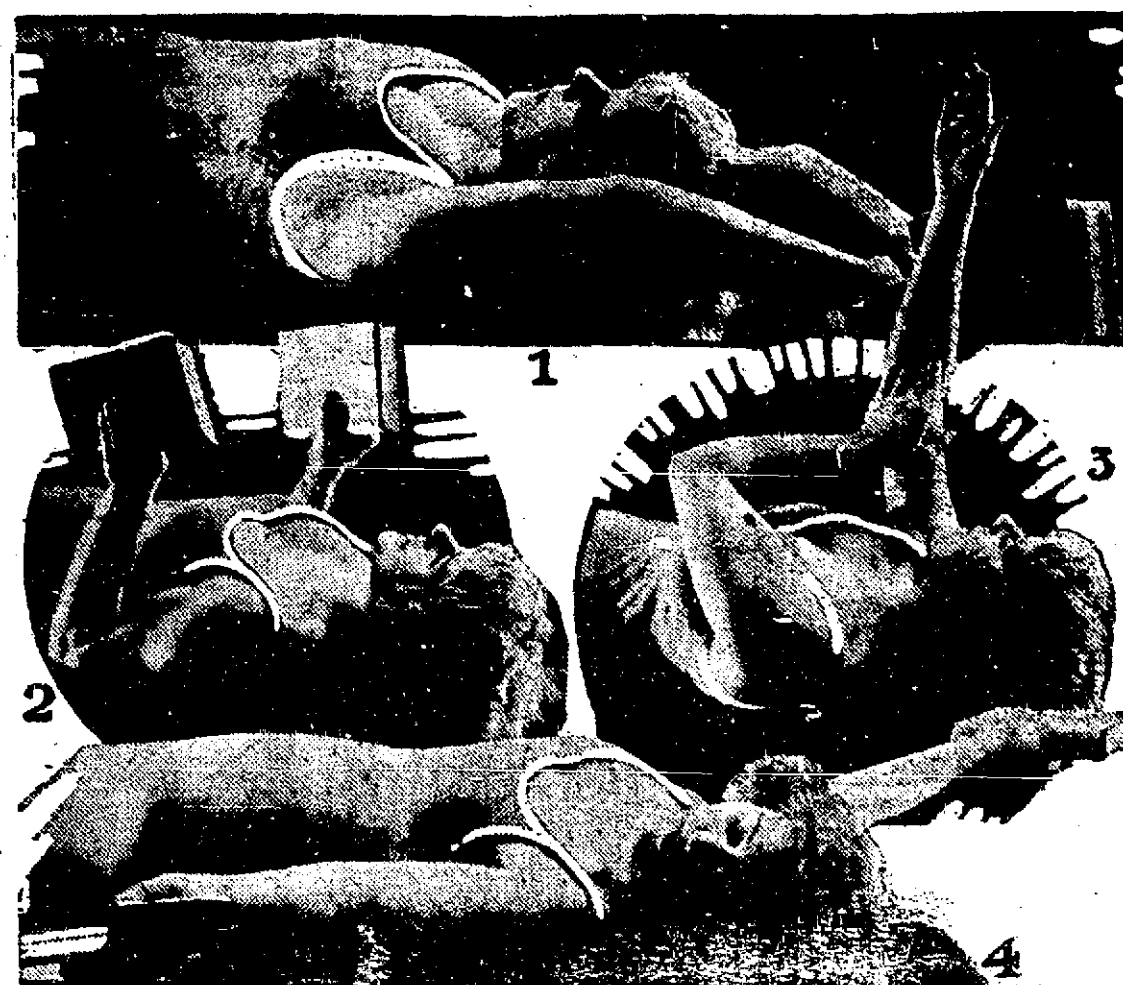

The first general meeting of workers for the annual Red Cross roll call will be held Friday evening at the Elk club. Chairman A. C. Gajach expects that fully one hundred people will be present.

Mrs. George Dengler has accepted the office of secretary of the campaign and will be in charge of headquarters which open today at the Elks. She will have charge of the present workers and it is her aim to have one or more solicitors in each voting precinct.

The complete organization will be effected at this meeting for the drive which starts on Armistice day.

BEAUTY SUGGESTIONS BY EXPERT

BY BERNARR MACFADDEN

Beautiful womanhood is impossible without a well-developed, symmetrical formed bust and chest.

This particular area of a woman's body indicates her vital condition. A strong chest in nearly every instance insures a heart that is vigorous and capable of satisfactory functioning and well-developed lungs that are in turn responsible for a clear, smooth, healthy skin. A flat, under-developed bust, or an over-fat one is equally undesirable and unlovely.

The following exercises will make a decided improvement in the contour of your chest and bust, and will bring it to the point of perfection nature intended it to attain.

FIRST EXERCISE

For exercise one, lie flat on a couch and hold two books over the head in the position shown in the picture, keeping the elbows rigid.

Bernarr MacFadden, well-known writer on and teacher of physical culture, urges the women of this generation to develop their bodies to the point of beauty and symmetry of which they are capable. In his article, which follows, he tells how to gain health as well as beauty by building up the chest and bust.—Editor.

Bring the books immediately over the head. Return and repeat until tired.

Then hold the books in the hand as shown in figure two. Raise them straight up overhead. Return and repeat until tired.

With the left hand firmly placed against the right elbow, as in figure three, bring the right arm toward the left, the left arm resting on the motion. Return and repeat. Then take the same exercise with the position of the arms reversed.

For exercise four, hold the books in each hand, the hands spread apart as shown, with the elbows rigid. Bring the arms upward, touching the books together immediately over the head. Return and repeat until tired.

Then take the same position as in figure three, except that you place the left hand against the right wrist, instead of the elbow. Press backward slightly at the same time, bringing the right arm, with elbow rigid, upward to a position immediately over the chest. When returning bring the arm as far back as possible. Repeat the same exercise with the position of the arms reversed.

Do not overexert at first, but devote a few minutes daily to these efforts, and you will notice a decided improvement.

SUNDAY OBJECTS TO RULING

Takes Issue With Court on King James Version

COLUMBUS—(United Press)—Billy Sunday, famed evangelist, took issue today with the California court of appeals which barred the King James version of the Bible from the public schools.

Sunday, conducting meetings in Dayton, telephoned his protest to the United Press here, when he learned of the court's ruling.

"There is no basis for objecting to use of the King James translation of the Bible in public schools," Sunday declared. "The King James version is absolutely true to the original. It has not the slightest bias. It is based upon original manuscripts."

The California court declared the King James version a sectarian book and ruled its use in public schools illegal.

"The revised version," Sunday declared, "which evidently the court implies may be used, makes no change in principles or doctrines."

"It has only restated them in modern words and phrases."

The evangelist said that to secure absolute exactness the translators of the King James version compared it diligently with all other English and foreign translations. When they had finished their work the book was passed by both Protestant and Catholic.

"This shows the King James version was never before regarded as sectarian," Sunday said.

"Since America is a Christian nation, I do not see how there can be any basis for objection to the use of the Scriptures in the public schools of the land."

FORMER CITY OFFICIAL SENTENCED TO PRISON

BUFFALO, N. Y. — John F. Malon, former city commissioner, was sentenced today to serve from three and one half to seven years at Auburn State prison. He was convicted on Tuesday of larceny of city funds.

Three employees of the department of parks and public buildings of which Malon was the head, and four business men who pleaded guilty to participating in the frauds amounting to about $150,000, also were sentenced.

Frank G. Whitson, Malon's secretary; Frederick P. Kull, department auditor, and Albert C. Febray, former playground director, were sentenced to serve from two to five years.

Edward J. Snor, president of the Eastern Oil Company, was sentenced to serve from one to three years. He brought money to court to make restitution but it was not accepted.

MRS. ALDORA HAGERMAN TO BE BURIED SUNDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Aldora Hagerman, 50, 117 W. Circular-st., will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Grace M. E. church. Interment will be made at Shawnee cemetery.

The deceased died at St. Rita's hospital Thursday afternoon, following an operation.

Besides the husband, Frank Hagerman, she is survived by one son, Charles Hagerman, Springfield, and one daughter, Frances Hagerman, who resided with her parents.

DEAF BOY HEARS OWN MUSIC SING

CHICAGO.—(Special).—Twenty years ago—a deaf scullery boy kicked and cuffed about the cattle ranches of the southwest.

Today—a successful song writer and musical composer earning an enviable income.

Such has been the career of Leroy Henderson here who can't distinguish one note from the other, and who hasn't heard a sound since he lost his hearing when he was six from poisoning in the farm home near South English, Ia. The prosecution has built up a powerful case, all based on circumstance, by which it hopes to show that Flory put bichloride of mercury in his wife's food in order that he might collect $5000 in life insurance and be free to wed another woman.

There is evidence of quarrels, of separation and negotiations for alimony, according to prosecution officials. Three months before the tragedy a $5000 life insurance policy for Mrs. Flory was made payable to her husband, they say. Also, they declare, the name of another woman will be brought into the case.

Flory remains unperturbed in his cell. He is in good spirits and asserts that, when the time comes, he will prove his innocence.

CONTRACT MARRIAGE TRUST IS SMASHED

LAFAYETTE, Ind. — The child "contract marriage trust" was broken today.

Six boy and girl actors apprehended in midwest towns, returned home with their dreams of marital bliss shattered.

Leaders in the puppy love cult declared that their motives were the highest and that they believed that the contract marriages would have been the stepping stone to permanent marriage. The six signed agreements to marry for six months and after that time to separate if the "trial" proved unsuccessful.

Today's tenement flappers are now the greatest little buyers of glove silk and crepe de chine lingerie in the world.

If there are any establishments on the main East Side streets dealing in old-fashioned brands, they are careful to keep their wares under cover. To attempt to purchase mere cotton garments is an insult to the salesman. He will talk bargains, but his bargains are in silks.

FOUR OF SIX MISSING SCHOOL GIRLS FOUND

DETROIT — Four of six school girls reported missing to police here were found this morning.

Three of the four girls who were residents of Royal Oak were in a downtown hotel where they spent the night after a party with three strangers in an automobile, according to the girls' own story.

The fourth girl was with her aunt.

Meanwhile, parents of the other two girls who live in Detroit, were apprehensive of their safety because of the similarity of circumstances to those in the case of 12-year-old Rosalie Shanty of Muskegon, who was whisked away in a motor car while on her way home from school Sunday and dropped in a swamp 100 miles from home after being abused.

FIRE DESTROYES BARN

LANCASTER. — Four hundred bushels of wheat, 80 tons of hay, farm machinery, vehicles and tools were destroyed when the barn of John Hengst burned here today.

Loss is placed at $15,000, partially covered by insurance.

HOFFMAN CHOSEN WELFARE HEAD

Conference at Columbus Comes to Close Today

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — With addresses by Dr. Walter H. Brown of the National Child Health Council, Mansfield, and Rowland Haynes, of the Welfare Federation, Cleveland, the three day conference of Ohio Welfare Workers will come to a close Friday.

Judge Charles W. Hoffman of the court of domestic relations, Cincinnati, was elected president of the conference Friday, to succeed Miss Lucia B. Johnson of Columbus, who is retiring.

E. J. Henry of Cleveland, superintendent of the Protestant Orphan Asylum, Cleveland, was named first vice president; Miss Cora Floyd, Stauberville, secretary of the Association.

Charles of that city, second vice president and H. H. Shirer, Upper Sandusky, superintendent of the Reformed church Home for the Aged, and former secretary of the state board of charities, treasurer, Howard R. Knight, Columbus, was re-elected executive secretary.

Lima was chosen for the next general session of the conference which will be held prior to October 15, next year.

3 GIRLS KILLED

Many Seriously Injured in New York Factory Fire

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — Three girls were killed, three more are reported dying and about a dozen were taken to hospitals seriously injured after a fire had broken out in a celluloid factory on E. Thirteenth-st this afternoon and the flames had quickly enveloped the three story building.

About forty girls were employed in the factory. Several jumped from windows as the panic spread. More escaped over roofs. Others were taken down ladders by firemen.

MABEL CHAMPION'S HUSBAND INDICTED

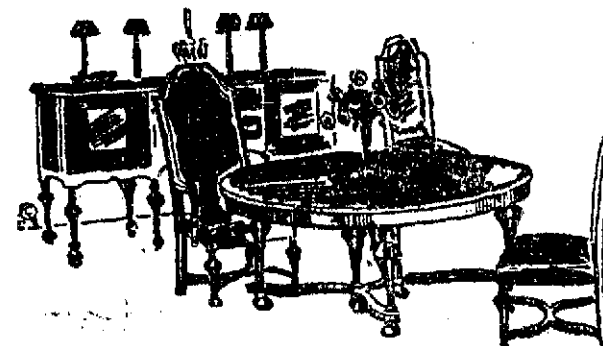

CLEVELAND — Ausley F. Champion, husband of Mrs. Mabel Champion, was indicted today by the county grand jury for assault to kill in connection with the death of Thomas A. O'Connell, sixteen hours after his wife was sentenced to twenty years in Marysville State Reformatory for the slaying of O'Connell in a restaurant here on the night of July 27 last. The facts in his case were presented to the grand jury this morning.

Mrs. Champion will not be taken to the reformatory until early next week, it was said by county officials.

"ROBIN HOOD" MORE BEAUTIFUL THAN DRAMATIC

(By ESTHER WAGNER)
JUDGMENT of "Robin Hood" naturally is a matter of comparison with "The Three Musketeers," Douglas Fairbanks' last picture.

"The Three Musketeers" moved the spectator to the edge of his seat. It swept one right up into the dash and spirit of the play's action. Fairbanks is a bit more agile and athletic than he has ever been before. He scampers about walls and parapets like an ape. He vaults onto horses like a cowboy. He dives and swims. He fights with his fists and swords and spears and bows. He is a human whirlwind of action.

Action of "Robin Hood" is in two distinct sequences, the first dealing with the hero as a crusader and courtly knight; the second as Robin Hood, generous landlord of Sherwood Forest. The story is woven from legend and fact.

The moment comes when Huntington returns to England to find the throne usurped by Prince John and is told that Lady Marian is dead.

He points his sword to Heaven and swears for vengeance—"For God—For Richard—For Her!"

All the drama of the play is centered then in that one knightly figure, alone against the sky, the destiny of England, the persistence of righteousness, the fate of chivalry dependent on him.

Sheldon Sisters, two dainty misses with pleasant voices, and charming personalities, offer a cycle of vocal and musical selections which went over most successfully. Their costumes and settings were quite artistic, too, all of which adds to the grand total of the offering. The "Knight and the Knave" played as a sensational European novelty, a demonstration of feats of strength opens the program, giving it an excellent send off. As usual, I arrived too late to see the act, but the best of authorities on matters vaudevillean tells me it is right up to snuff.

There you have the subject of what is perhaps the most complete and well-balanced bill of Keith vaudeville yet brought to the Faurot. Every act a veritable headline, teeming with entertainment and merit.

Two New Comedy Roles In "The Royal Chef"

YOU have, of course, seen Hal Kiter in all sorts of humorous comedy roles, since the prolonged engagement of the Billy Allen Co. at the New Orpheum theatre, but you will agree with me that his part in "The Royal Chef" is quite the funniest impersonation he has given us. Assisted by Phil Hart, the pair furnish one continuous laugh and patrons of the theatre proclaim the offering most effective.

Elaborate settings, bizarre costumes and new dances are prominent in the offering, which introduces Mr. Kiter as a testy cook from Chicago; Mr. Hart as an Irish steward; Mr. Jack as the handsome lieutenant and Miss Stevens as the rajah's daughter, if I member correctly.

A series of harmony songs, dance specialties and extra features are combined to make "The Royal Chef" an extravaganza of unusual proportions.

"The Storm" SOMETHING new in the eternal triangle situations is revealed in "The Storm," the powerful Universal-Jewel attraction, which will have its local premier at the Lyric Theatre Sunday. It will be

Keith Vaudeville at the Faurot Is Top Notch

ONE encounters such a splendid array of Keith vaudeville at the Faurot this week-end, that it is a bit difficult to designate just which acts are the more worthy of your attention. Be that as it may, each and every offering on the bill is right off the Keith circuit, new, snappy, and up to the minute.

Gene Green and his seven syncopators, the headline act, genuinely pleased at the opening performance on Thursday. Mr. Green favors with popular songs, dialect stories, and to accentricities, ably assisted by his band of musicians whose jazz selections were some of the most scintillating ever played at the Opera House. The audience is permitted to request certain numbers, with the orchestra responding in their best style and manner. Altogether a decidedly novel and pleasing act.

Then there are "The Runaways," with Orlino Conday, a pleasant songstress, ably assisted by Jimmie Dunn and Deane Moore, in a comedy playlet which combines clever repartee, delightful vocal numbers and a dance or two. "The act is unusually well staged and costumed, and to my mind, one of the best things in the program."

 recalled that the stage version of Langdon McCormick's play took New York on its feet, and was widely acclaimed as one of the dramatic events of a decade. One has no hesitancy in similarly commending the screen version.

Replete with dynamic situations, powerful climax and anti-climax, marvelous scenic and perfectly acted, "The Storm" rises to heights in the film world and sets a target for producers to aim at for many moons.

The picture was made under the direction of Reginald Barker, producer of "The Old Nest" and other famous successes, but it is doubtful if any will add greater lustre to his name than "The Storm." It will remain at the Lyric Theatre one week.

MRS. EFFIE M. WHITNEY DIES AT HOME HERE

Mrs. Effie M. Whitney, who has been ill for several months, died Thursday night at her home, 1102 E. Second-st.

The deceased is survived by her husband and three small children, Catherine, 9, Winifred, 7, and Warren, 1 and by her parents in Versailles, Ohio.

The body was taken to Versailles Friday morning. Funeral services and interment will be in that city.

OPERA SINGERS ON FAUROT BILL

What is perhaps the highest achievement that the Faurot theatre management has ever presented in connection with a photoplay attraction is scheduled for Sunday, when Madame Marie Macculi, mezzo-soprano, and Miss Frances Moore, coloratura, will appear in a concert at the Faurot in connection with the showing of "Silver Wings" starring Mary Carr.

Madame Macculi, a graduate of La Scala Conservatory in Milan, Italy, herself one of the greatest concert singers of the American stage today, speaks with the greatest admiration and enthusiasm of the voice of her concert partner, Miss Moore.

"Her voice," said Madame Macculi, "is one of the most flexible and sweetly beautiful voices I have ever heard, either in America or abroad. It has a clear, bird-like quality of marvelous range and technique, fairly rippling in the various cadences and trills of her selections." Miss Moore is the youngest coloratura soprano on the concert stage today.

At each performance of the picture "Silver Wings" Madame Macculi and Miss Moore will favor with a group of operatic selections, interspersed with popular numbers. The rendition of "Mother Macrae" and "When You and I Were Young Maggie," as particularly fitting the theme of the production, will also be featured.

During an extensive tour of the larger cinema houses of the state of Ohio during the past season, these two famous singers have created widespread comment, not only for the supreme beauty of their voices, but for the unusually attractive wardrobe which they use at each performance. For one scene, a gown patterned after the one worn by Gloria Swanson in a recent picture, made entirely of pearls is used, while Miss Moore wears a replica of a costume worn in recent DeMille success, also made entirely of pearls.

The staging of this most unusual attraction of the Faurot will be elaborate and in keeping with the high quality of the act. The engagement opens on Sunday, and remains at the Faurot for four days, during the presentation of the feature film, "Silver Wings."

PLAN TO ABOLISH 8-HOUR DAY OPPOSED

WASHINGTON — The administration will not approve any movement to abolish the eight hour working day on the American railroads, it was learned officially here today. The belief prevails here that the United States rail labor board could not lengthen the standard day without violating the Adamson eight hour law, passed during the threatened strike of the big four brotherhoods in 1916.

The administration has no intention of repeal of this law, it was stated by high official sources.

J. W. Blackburn, 849 W. Springfield, basing his judgments on a cavitation of the winds, predicts fine weather for November.

S. Shriver, 852 W. Springfield, agrees with Blackburn. And goes him one better. Basing his decisions on what he has observed in regard to caterpillars he predicts that the entire winter will be mild. His neighbors say he is always right in his weather predictions, and if the winter does not turn out as he says it will be the fault of the caterpillars, and not of Shriver.

Vernon A. Plesner set about to brighten up a handsome library table in his home on State-st.

When he had finished he was surprised to find that the table top didn't look so well as it did before he started to polish it. This circumstance was explained when he made a more careful examination of the label on the bottle of liquid he used.

"Instead of a bottle of varnish renovator it turned out that he had used a bottle of varnish remover," reports a neighbor.

Showers to Little Johnny Summefeld, 4 years old, 805 State-st., seen standing out in the yard in a bathing suit, while his father turns the hose on him.

Recently his mother was talking to a friend over the phone and was telling about a shower which was to be given for a third friend. After his mother had finished talking, Johnny exclaimed, "Mother, mother can I go to the shower with you? Who's going to hold the hose?"
